• GOP Antics On Defense Bill Scored

Rayburn Says Party Makes Political Issue Out Of Ike Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn accused House Republicans today of making a political issue of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan.

The Texas Democrat said GOP leaders were lining up votes on a partisan basis in an effort to shove through the House today changes favored by the White House.

He made the comment as the House prepared for a showdown on a revised reorganization bill drafted by its Armed Services Committee.

To Vote For Riders

Republicans called a party conference on the bill late yesterday, after which GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. said 95 per cent of his members would vote for the President's amendments.

Rayburn cited the conference as evidence that the issue had been made a matter of party loyalty on the Republican side of the aisle.

Other Democratic sources hinted that Democrats, in what they viewed as a necessary retaliatory move, might try to line up Democratic votes against the amendments on the same basis.

It remained to be seen how successful that effort might be. Some Democrats were wondering whether they may have been caught in a political booby-trap on the issue.

Labor Bill Hearings Set Before Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today opens a politically charged debate on the most comprehensive labor bill to reach it since the Taft-Hartley Act became law in 1947.

It is designed to curb some labor union abuses and also give organized labor some of the things it wants. But it was under fire from both sides.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) expressed hope the bill could be passed by Friday night.

Other senators thought it would take longer. Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), one of a group of Republicans planning to offer a series of stringent amendments to the bill, said there would be "long drawn out discussion" on each one.

Kansas Girl Wins National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jolitta Schlehuber of McPherson, Kan., today won the national spelling bee by correctly spelling "syllopsis."

Jolitta defeated Terry Madeira, 13, Elizabethtown, Pa., who stumbled on the word "propylacum."

She misspelled it "propileum." Under the rules of the bee, Jolitta first had to spell correctly "propylacum," and then go on and correctly spell another word, which she did. Had she failed Terry would have been given another chance.

The word which won Jolitta $1,000 in cash, a trophy cup and $100 for a weekend visit to New York City was defined as an adjective which goes before another word and agrees with that word in number.

Both Jolitta and Terry went to the final spelling down after getting a new chance at a word when judges decided there was misunderstanding in connection with pronunciation of their words.

Jolitta was in the national bee last year when she placed fourth. This is the first national bee for Terry.

The contest ended in the 29th round. It started Wednesday morning.

Terry won $500 for her second-place finish. Stanley A. Schmidt, 14, Cincinnati, won the third prize of $250.

• 'Unlucky' Vacationers Get Second Holiday—For Free

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Those larger boys to remove fish from lines. Their escort will be the patrolmen who stopped them for lacking a license plate. Their cars will be serviced before they leave.

On their May trip, the couples ruined a new tire and had five flats, the trailer rolled into the lake, the boat sank in 30 feet of water. The highway patrol stopped them for not having a rear license plate. It was on the bumper torn off by the trailer, wind and rain blew down their tent and soaked their belongings.

They caught no fish—didn't even get a bite.

'PAPER BAG' BANDIT—Detroit policeman Marmion S. Pollard, above, 29, has been identified by Police Commissioner Edward S. Figgan as the paper bag bandit who failed in three attempted bank holdups but staged four other robberies successfully. He carried paper bags which he told bank employees to fill with money. The accused man blamed financial difficulties for his actions. (AP Photofax)

Drastic U. S. Acts To Hold Cold War Leadership Hinted

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Defense Secretary Neil McElroy predicted today the United States may be forced to take drastic steps to keep ahead in the cold war even if it means a more Spartan life for the people.

Great peacetime sacrifices may, and probably will, be called for, McElroy said in a speech prepared for the Commencement Day meeting of the Harvard Alumni Assn.

"Certain it is," he said, "that the test of our social order is the most serious we have ever faced. It is based not alone on the making of arms, but on a truly phenomenal economic and industrial growth in the Soviet Union, plus an equally prodigious development in the field of education. In all of these areas, Russia reached the position she is in today because she worked harder at it."

U. S. intelligence services estimate that by 1962 the growing Soviet economy will be producing half of what we do now, McElroy said.

People Get Little "It's what she does with her output that's important. For instance, less than half of it gets into the hands of the Soviet citizen in the form of consumable goods and services. By contrast, over two-thirds of our total production reaches the consumer," he pointed out.

"Parents will have to contribute more money—through taxes or contributions—for the kind of educational program the country needs," he said. "I anticipate we may have to put from 50 to 100 per cent more money in the broad field of education than we are now allocating."

Albany, Ga. (AP) — A garage airman's family of five early today mourned the family of five early today.

Dead are Barbara Chapman, 27, wife of Sgt. W. E. Chapman; three small daughters and a son—Karen, 5; Sharon, 4; Billy, 2; and Susan, 11 months.

Chapman is stationed in Germany. Officials at Turner Air Force Base at once began arrangements to fly him here.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Fire Claims Four Lives

Both Jolitta and Terry went to the final spelling down after getting a new chance at a word when judges decided there was misunderstanding in connection with pronunciation of their words.

Jolitta was in the national bee last year when she placed fourth. This is the first national bee for Terry.

The contest ended in the 29th round. It started Wednesday morning.

Terry won $500 for her second-place finish. Stanley A. Schmidt, 14, Cincinnati, won the third prize of $250.

Goldfine Claims No "Favors" By Adams

De Gaulle's Irked Over Rebel Move

Soustelle Called On Carpet; France, Not Rebels, To Rule

PARIS (AP) — Premier Charles de Gaulle called Jacques Soustelle on the carpet today in another show of his determination not to let the colonists in Algeria dictate how he runs France.

Soustelle is the political front man for the insurgent movement of army officers and French settlers who banded together in committees of public safety to keep Algeria under French control. de Gaulle wants the Moslem majority to have a full voice in running France's North African territory.

Directed Wild Outbreaks The committees inspired and directed wild demonstrations in Algeria which hoisted de Gaulle to power. But he is now trying to make them take the same vacation from politics he ordered for the National Assembly.

The premier called Soustelle back from Algiers after the military-civilian committee there demanded that de Gaulle kick party politicians out of his cabinet and delay the Algerian municipal elections he promised about a month.

Biting Telegram

De Gaulle's first response was a biting telegram to Gen. Raoul Salan, his civil and military chief in Algeria who had associated himself with the insurgent committee's demands. The premier told Salan to keep out of politics and criticized him for getting mixed up in "the regrettable and intemperate incident caused by the preeminent motion of the committee."

He added that the committee's only right and role was to express the opinion of its members.

Soustelle, who eluded police surveillance at his Paris home and slipped through to Algiers May 16, is generally regarded as the real mastermind behind the movement, although he holds no post on any of the committees.

Leaves For Paris

PARIS (UPI) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle summoned Jacques Soustelle back to Paris today for a probable showdown on whether the premier or the rebels are going to run France.

Official sources said Soustelle, fiery ex-Gaullist leader who escaped police surveillance in Paris to fly to Algiers at the start of the May 13 military-civilian revolt, left North Africa early this afternoon.

Tim Tam's Career Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — Tim Tam's racing days are over, trainer Jimmy Jones said today. The Calumet Farm 3-year-old star will be sent to the University of Pennsylvania for an operation on his injured ankle.

The decision was made after Jones conferred with Dr. William O. Reed, his veterinarian at Belmont Park.

"I have no hopes he'll ever race again," Jones said of the colt who won the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness. Tim Tam missed the so-called triple crown when he broke a sesamoid bone in the Belmont Stakes last Saturday and finished second.

Secret Since 1955

Actress Suzy Parker, French Count Wedded

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I've been in love seriously only once. I fell in love with him when I fell in love with Paris."

These words, spoken when Suzy Parker was filmed making her debut, shed some light on her secret marriage to French journalist Count Pierre de la Salle.

In New York Wednesday night, De La Salle, through an attorney, issued a statement saying they were happily married, and have been since 1955. He said "it was Hollywood press agents who suggested that it be kept secret so that it might advance her career."

Miss Parker registered at a St. Augustine, Fla., hospital as "Mrs. Pierre de la Salle" after an accident in which her father was killed. She had suffered fractures of both arms. The count, visiting her there, said at first they were not married.

Kane, second of two men to die in a cave-in of an excavation in West Philadelphia last night. Surgeon Saverio Burnett, bends over the victim as weary firemen watch. Storms Rake Central U. S.; Twisters Hit

Kansas Battered; Wabash Threatens Area In Indiana

By The Associated Press

Late spring storms hammered central sections of the country again Wednesday night, the most severe in tornado-jittery Kansas.

A rash of tornadoes erupted in south central Kansas, with heaviest damage reported in Wichita, some 35 miles from El Dorado, which was hit by a killer twister Tuesday night.

About 25 houses in northeast Wichita were damaged and an undetermined number of persons injured by the tornado. Other twisters were reported near Arkansas City, Newton and Wellington, all in the Wichita area.

Severe thunderstorms were reported during the early morning in sections of Kansas and Missouri. Tornado winds also ripped into areas of western Nebraska and eastern Colorado.

The surging Wabash River threatened serious flooding in Indiana. At Peru, some 1,000 residents were ordered to leave their homes as water neared the top of a floodwall. Many streams in the north central section of the state overflowed, forcing hundreds of persons from their homes, including 1,500 at Marion, and others at Wabash, Logansport, Delphi and Lafayette.

Red China Plans Anti-U. S. Movies

HONG KONG (AP) — A festival of anti-American films is opening Saturday in Hanoi, capital of Communist North Viet Nam.

Hanoi Radio, heard here today, said more than 30 feature movies from Russia, Communist China, Hungary, East Germany and Japan are on the program.

They include a Russian picture "exposing acts of racial discrimination in the United States."

Red Members Become Profs

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist political leaders are being turned into professors as Red China further steps up political indoctrination in its universities and colleges.

Peiping radio today said large numbers of "leading members of the Central Committee and secretaries of provincial and municipal committees of the Chinese Communist party have accepted professorships."

It was the first report of high political leaders themselves taking teaching jobs.

UAW's Chief Heads Union Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther today assumed personal command of negotiations with Chrysler Corp., storm center of the UAW's efforts to reach contract agreement with the automotive Big Three.

Reuther's surprise decision came Wednesday, less than three hours after Chrysler sent 2,000 workers home early from its Jefferson-Kearney plant in another of a series of incidents which have marked the no-contract period.

Norman Matthews, director of the UAW's Chrysler department, said Chrysler was trying to provoke the 75,000 Chrysler workers into a strike. He urged the UAW members to stay on the job at all costs.

Chrysler officials said they were not trying to disrupt the union. They said, however, that workers will have to keep up production and efficiency.

Negotiations between auto workers and the UAW resumed today.

Woman, Two Jet Fliers Killed As Plane Hits House

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A flaming Air Force jet training plane hurtled out of a rainstorm, into an isolated farm home near here Wednesday night, killing an Air Force instructor and his pupil, and a woman resident of the house.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Cora Harman, 68, 1st Lt. Robert E. Irons, 25, Westbury, Long Island, N. Y.; and 2nd Lt. Charis Poulos, 22, Grand Island, Neb., both stationed at Vance Air Force base at Enid, Okla. Irons was an instructor and Poulos a student pilot.

Authorities at the scene, five miles northeast of Ponca City, said Mrs. Harman's body was thrown from the house by the explosion following the crash.

Senate Votes Railroad Aid Bill Passage

Quick House Action Due; Provides Loans For Ailing Carriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quick House action is expected on legislation to authorize 700 million dollars in government-guaranteed loans and other help for the ailing railroads.

The Senate passed the bill by voice vote Wednesday and the House Commerce Committee was called into closed door session to tackle the measure today.

As passed by the Senate, the bill also would permit the railroads to discontinue unprofitable interstate trains unless the Interstate Commerce Commission determines the carriers are not suffering net losses and overrules them.

The Senate cut out a provision that would have permitted rail, air, barge and truck carriers to set up reserve funds that would be free of income taxes for five years if the funds were invested in new equipment.

On motion of Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), the Senate eliminated authority for the ICC to permit discontinuance of trains operating wholly within a single state. In the amended form, the bill would give the ICC authority to permit discontinuance of any train that crosses from one state into another.

Under the bill, the ICC would authorize government-guaranteed loans to the railroads for acquisition or construction of new equipment.

Upswing In Pay Noted In Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first upswing in wage payments since the recession began last August is reported by the Commerce Department.

The department said Wednesday that the nation's personal income tax increased by 14 billion dollars on a yearly basis during May. Part of the gain was attributed to an increase in federal and state payments, up 400 million dollars, late.

Graham Views Temptation, Gives Resistance Secrets

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham says every human being is alone in the battle against Satan unless Christ is with him.

Graham spoke on the temptations of the devil last night in his sermon to 14,000 at the Cow Palace. He is in the final week of his seven-week crusade.

Graham emphasized that being tempted is not a sin but that the sin comes in yielding to the temptation. "Man is never tempted beyond his capacity to withstand temptation," Graham said. "The devil is most interested in tempting those closest to God. Some people he doesn't even bother about."

One Of His Firms Paid Hotel Bills

Boston Industrialist Says Families Close Friends, Entertained

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Boston millionaire industrialist Bernard Goldfine confirms that one of his companies had paid hotel bills for Sherman Adams, presidential aide, and Mrs. Adams, but denied Adams had used influence on government officials on Goldfine's behalf.

In a statement Wednesday night, he contended charges in Washington by members of a House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight were an "irresponsible, smear on my good name and the good name of Sherman Adams."

The statement, issued by Goldfine through his lawyer, Samuel P. Sears, said the Goldfines and the Adamses have been close friends for 20 years as a result of an acquaintanceship which grew out of his textile manufacturing business in New Hampshire.

Adams is a former governor of New Hampshire.

"We have entertained them and they have entertained us," Goldfine said. "On some occasions when Mr. and Mrs. Adams have been passing through Boston, I have entertained them at a Boston hotel and the bills have been paid by one of my companies."

But Goldfine insisted: "Adams has never used any influence in my behalf with any government agency, or ever attempted to do so, nor have I ever asked him to do so. Any suggestion that he used influence to help me in Washington, or tried to do so, is completely unwarranted."

Adams Confers With Ike; Statement Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams conferred with President Eisenhower today but the White House did not say whether they discussed influence charges made against Adams by a House subcommittee.

White House Press Secretary James C. Haggerty said he would not have any reply from Adams to the subcommittee charges until 4 p. m. Haggerty said yesterday Adams would prove the charges "completely false."

Meanwhile, Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) said new subcommittee hearings starting Monday would "develop any and all information" about Adams and his relations with Boston Industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Trade Statute Strikes Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's House-passed reciprocal trade agreements program hit a snag in the Senate Republican leadership today.

In the face of a lop-sided 317-98 House vote Wednesday to continue presidential control over tariffs for five years, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) announced he will back a move to reduce the extension to three years. The House rejected a two-year limit.

The bill would give Eisenhower authority to reduce U.S. tariffs on imports as much as 25 per cent over the five-year period in return for similar concessions by other countries on U.S. exports.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, traditionally a supporter of the trade program, said the House bill will be given top priority in the Senate.

U. N. Checks Border Area Of Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The first contingent of U.N. observers moved into Lebanon today less than 24 hours after the Security Council ordered a border watch to keep out what Lebanon calls intruders from President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

The first group of five officers—New Zealanders, two Swedes and two Italians—drove from Israel into south Lebanon and then headed for Beirut.

The officers are from the U.N. truce group in Palestine.

Reflecting the urgent view the Council took of the Lebanese situation, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld ordered them to Lebanon immediately to serve until he can recruit a separate organization from U.N. members.

The Security Council authorized the watchdog team in answer to a Lebanese complaint that the U.A.R. is sending arms and men to rebels seeking to overthrow President Camille Chamoun's pro-Western government. The U.A.R. denied the charge.

'Short-Range' Missile Fired Without Hitch

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — (UPI) — The Army's reliable short range redstone missile, already in the hands of field troops, was test-fired last night from the missile test center, blasting off into a thin hazy sky.

The launching, described beforehand as a routine test flight for the 200-600 mile missile, apparently went off without a hitch.

The 65-foot missile got away at 9 p. m. and was visible about two and a half minutes before it disappeared into the sky at high altitudes.

The Redstone has been test-fired scores of times and is already in production. Last month, a team of Army troops fired the Redstone from Cape Canaveral, marking the first time a large ballistic missile had been fired entirely by military personnel.

A descendant of the German V-2 rocket, the Redstone is slated to be on overseas bases soon.

Dulles Seeks Facts In Trip To de Gaulle

U. S. Will Learn Views On Problems; Air Support Plans

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A flying trip by Secretary of State Dulles to confer with Premier Charles de Gaulle in Paris next month is planned primarily as a two-way fact finding mission.

Officials said today the meeting will give Dulles an opportunity to learn at first hand de Gaulle's views on a whole range of problems from the continuing crisis in North Africa to the possible summit conference.

It also will give de Gaulle a chance to find out what kind of United States cooperation and support he can expect in carrying through his program.

The State Department said Wednesday that Dulles would fly to Paris on July 5 and be back here in time to go with President Eisenhower on a visit to Ottawa three days later.

His meeting with de Gaulle will take place against a background of worry about France's role in the western alliance under de Gaulle's leadership.

Possibly one of the most difficult problems which de Gaulle will face is that of cooperation between France and the United States in the field of atomic weapons development. France has been reported at the point of producing nuclear weapons for test purposes and de Gaulle is believed to be determined to make his country the world's fourth atomic power—along with the United States, Russia and Britain.

He may confront Dulles with a strong request for information sharing between France and the United States to the same extent that this country is able to share its atomic weapons secrets with Britain under legislation now pending in Congress.

There has been considerable opposition at the Capitol to providing France with U.S. weapons know-how, because of possible security problems and of the long record of instability in the French government.

Another problem is to work out an allied policy on suspension of nuclear tests following the present U.S. series of experimental explosions in the Pacific.

Macmillan Apparently Influences U. S. Stand On Red China Position

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The impression left by President Eisenhower's three-day talk with British Prime Minister Macmillan was that of two old friends nodding "yes, sir" to each other on every thing.

They showed no sign of disagreement. At the same time they didn't appear to have solved anything, either. But the meeting hadn't been billed as a world-shaker in the first place.

But it was one of those things in which, behind the privacy of the White House walls, one man may have been a real influence on the other. In this case Macmillan perhaps influenced Eisenhower's thinking on Red China.

That might explain the startling way in which Secretary of State Dulles suddenly said Red China should be included in any arrangement to police a ban on nuclear testing to prevent cheating.

Almost a year ago the prime ministers of 10 British Commonwealth nations, meeting in London, urged that Red China, as a potential nuclear power, be asked to join in any disarmament agreement or any agreement on ending nuclear tests.

But this government not only refuses to recognize the Red Chinese as the government of mainland China but opposes membership of them in the United Nations.

This is like having cake and eating it, since, no matter what it's called, the present armistice in Korea is the result of agreement with Red China.

This non-recognition of Red China lies behind Eisenhower's omission—in his correspondence with Russian Premier Khrushchev about ending nuclear tests—of any mention of Red China as an interested party.

What Eisenhower and Khrushchev have agreed on is this: that American and Russian scientists—with the British, French, Poles and Czechoslovaks sitting in—should meet to seek some accord on how a nuclear testing ban could be policed.

Macmillan began his talks with Eisenhower and Dulles Monday. Later that day the White House said the President's latest letter to Khrushchev would be made public Tuesday morning. It made no mention of Red China.

But within about an hour Dulles was telling his news conference that to make a ban on nuclear testing effective inspection posts would have to be set up in Red China.

Charged With Visit

So, while that had been the British position for a year, it didn't become the American position until Macmillan visited the White House. Wednesday Macmillan said Red China should be included in any agreement on banning nuclear tests.

Before Red China agreed to inspection posts inside her borders, she might insist on admittance to the U. N. That would require American recognition of the Red regime as legitimate.

So the Dulles-Macmillan statements on Red China may be the opening of the first door to letting her into the U. N. and giving her the international recognition she wants.

If this turns out to be a result of Macmillan's visit to Washington it will, in the long run, prove to have been very far-reaching although at the moment it may seem hardly more than a minor episode.

General Slapped For Announcing Moon Shot Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force general who announced planning dates for shooting rockets at the moon got a verbal wrist slap from his boss Wednesday.

Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas said the dates announced by Lt. Gen. S.E. Anderson "should be wholly disregarded."

Anderson, director of Air Force research and development, said at a news conference in Milwaukee Tuesday that the Air Force planned three moon shots this year, the first in August.

Colorado 'Wars' On Grasshoppers But Governor Warns Federal Aid Needed

DENVER (AP) — Colorado launched an attack against grasshopper hordes today, but Gov. Steve McNichols warned the action can be only a limited one unless large-scale federal aid is thrown into the fight.

The funds are needed, he said, to protect the 110-million-dollar wheat crop ripening on the high plains of eastern Colorado and for the hay crop needed to carry cattle through next winter.

Turned down by the White House Wednesday in an effort to have the region declared a disaster area eligible for civil defense funds, McNichols said he will appeal to the U.S. Department of Agriculture for part of 14 million dollars available for emergencies under the agricultural conservation program.

Wilton B. Pearson, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower, informed McNichols of the White House decision. Persons said Eisenhower has ordered that all assistance available through the Agriculture Department be extended to Colorado, Kansas and neighboring areas.

Persons said in telegrams to McNichols and Gov. George Docking of Kansas that a federal survey of the grasshopper threat has been completed.

McNichols announced he will ask the Legislature, when it meets Monday in emergency session, to appropriate up to a million and a half dollars for the struggle with the hoppers. This apparently would wipe out the surplus in the state's general fund.

Paul W. Swisher, state agriculture commissioner, reported the hopper infestation now covers more than 10 million acres in 21 counties.

The state agriculture department announced the start of a range spraying program, with five two-engine planes flying out of Cheyenne Wells, in east-central Colorado. It said nearly 500,000 acres will be covered in this cooperative venture at a cost of about 60 cents an acre.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Talk, More Talk

WHILE IT IS FAIR to complain that Americans these days seem hard to arouse to concern over many important issues, at least one thing can be said in defense of this indifference. We pummel our citizens with a barrage of talk that nobody could stand up under. The bombardment is so relentless that by the time an issue is finally settled it is anticlimactic, no matter how it comes out. In the spring of 1958, the most battered targets are the questions whether we shall have summit talks and whether we shall have a tax cut.

IF YOU HAD a nickel for every story that's been written about a tax reduction, you wouldn't need it. If all the energy consumed in debating the summit issue could somehow be converted to real action toward peace, we'd be several strides farther down the road. Both of these issues have their legitimate pros and cons, but they have all been well aired long since. It is bad enough that in the nature of things both issues seem destined to drag on for some time to come without decision. What is much worse is that virtually every public figure whose vocal cords are functioning normally has to spout his piece on these subjects. Freedom of speech is a wonderful thing. But free and easy speech would be a better definition for the tons of verbal hay that land on top of us with each passing day.

A RECENT CRITIC of the American press bemoaned the reams of copy devoted to Lana Turner and her troubles on a day not long back. Has anybody bothered to tote up the volumes and volumes of stuff turned out since tax cut and summit were first mentioned? Translated into paper, wood pulp and fir tree, it would undoubtedly make quite a forest. And there's more than a moderate suspicion that we might be just as well informed on those issues if a good many of the trees were still standing in the Canadian woods.

America Can Speak

THE WEAKENING of Soviet-Yugoslav ties serves as another reason why Tito should undo one of his crimes—the imprisonment of Milovan Djilas, whose sin was that he spoke against the regime, and of aged socialists not in sympathy with how Tito runs his government. Americans can speak up for justice if they but will. They could initiate a campaign to free Djilas and the other innocent men who have been railroaded by methods of Communist injustice. How proud might the citizens of some American town be if their community launched the campaign which won freedom for Djilas, one of the biggest and bravest men within the boundaries of a Communist-run country. Such a campaign could influence even a dictator, especially one who depends on us for aid in keeping Moscow at arm's length. In the 1930s, protests by writers in Paris won the freedom or saved the lives of Russian writers who were in the hands of the Russian secret police. It can be done. American prestige is low in the world. But the voice of the American people, if it speaks, will be heard. The American people, protesting and calling for the liberty of a man unjustly jailed because he exercised free speech, will not be speaking merely to the air. This would be truly significant "people-to-people" action; it could even be historic.

Odd Statistic

A RESEARCH outfit has been digging into the backgrounds of our senators. It comes up with the conclusion that out of the 96 only 10 are qualified to teach government or civics in U.S. high schools. It isn't quite clear from summary accounts in the newspapers just what is expected of a senator to qualify him for this assignment. But, whatever it is, most don't seem to have it. Offhand this appears rather odd, for after all these gentlemen are engaged in the practice of government every working day. No one imagines that all would have the particular combination of abilities required for transmitting their practical experience through a school course. But it's pretty astonishing that no more than 10 are considered able to preach what they practice. In the light of this, when some senator or other complains henceforth about the inadequacies of teachers in our school setup, maybe somebody should turn the music up loud.

Time Only Will Reveal De Gaulle's Aims

PARIS — Many Europeans speak English: the distinction of the waiter in the Plaza Hotel in Brussels, from where this writer has just come was that he spoke fluent, colloquial American. He learned it, he said, in four years service in Korea where he was three times wounded.

He had voted for the Social-Christians who, in an apathetic election recently toppled the Socialist-Liberal coalition governing Belgium for four prosperous years.

HIS REASON: The Socialist government, in his view, had discriminated against the Catholic schools in favor of the public schools, both in amount of state subsidies and in jobs, seniority and similar privileges for graduates.

He still felt that he was not voting "conservative"; he liked the Socialist welfare programs and expected them to be continued by the now dominant Catholic party.

His chances are good, for that party won enough votes to control the Senate but failed by three seats to gain control of the House of Representatives. Thus it must seek a coalition, probably with the Socialists.

"Mother" Of Rocketry, Tells Of Goddard

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Mrs. Esther C. Goddard, widow of the late Dr. Robert H. Goddard, father of American rocketry, was guest of honor at the first Missile Industry conference, held in Washington.

For if Dr. Goddard is the father, then Mrs. Goddard must surely be the mother of this burgeoning, five-billion-dollar infant industry.

Mrs. Goddard isn't a scientist. She says she learned more about rocketry after her husband's death than she knew before.

She was a secretary in the office of the president of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., when young Prof. Goddard came back from California in 1918. He had been experimenting with a forerunner of the bazooka.

THE ARMY wanted it, and the Air Corps wanted it to mount on the wings of airplanes. Prof. Goddard asked the secretary if she would type up his notes and reports. That's how it began.

They were married in 1924 and Mrs. Goddard became an extra pair of hands to help her husband with his research. It was financed, in the beginning, by his own savings and later by grants of $500 a time from Smithsonian Institution.

Incidentally, four of Dr. Goddard's rockets, fired in 1926, 1935, 1938 and 1941, are now on exhibit in the Smithsonian museum here.

ONE OF MRS. Goddard's early jobs was to put out the grass fires after rocket launchings, while her husband and his helpers raced after the missile in a truck, to pick up and salvage the pieces, and put out other fires.

Mrs. Goddard tells about the firing of the 1926 model—the first successful firing of a liquid fuel rocket.

They started out from the Clark University laboratory in their Ford roadster, with the rocket mounted on an improvised trailer. It was March 16, and she thinks it must have been a Tuesday—the day the professor had no classes.

They drove out to Aunt Effie Ward's farm, near Auburn, Mass.

that Socialist refusal to make greater concessions on the school issue was a danger to its continued control despite the stability and prosperity it brought Belgium. The clergy also helped to influence the decline of splinter parties in the election by warning Catholics not to disperse their votes uselessly.

Belgians, describe the victors as a party much like the Christian Democrats of Italy who have just made substantial gains there. That is, it contains a cross-section ranging from industrialists to workers and peasants and, in general, takes the middle of the road. The losses sustained by the Socialists and Liberals reflect the longing for security, the dislike of experimentation, which is so marked in all the West.

TO A DEGREE, both the Italian and Belgian elections will strengthen the hand of the great Catholic statesman of Western Germany, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, especially since France has now turned over its destinies to so great a question mark as General Charles de Gaulle. The Adenauer dream of a United States of Europe cannot, of course, be realized without France.

It is too early to say whether the progress so far made toward that goal in the way of a common market, free trade and Euratom will be halted or greatly damaged by the French crisis. Its advocates here are almost afraid to talk of it, so renowned are the tender sensibilities of de Gaulle.

WHAT THEY are not afraid to discuss is the dire impact on their grand design of a United States in the grip of a prolonged recession or prepared to return to high tariffs: The American reciprocal trade agreements are perhaps hotter news here than at home.

De Gaulle's position toward the goals for which Adenauer is so powerful a spokesman is unclear. The record shows him saying many large and grand things about the general aims and philosophy of European integration. In some respects, according to one commentator, he talks bigger and better about it even than Adenauer.

Since economics is not his long suit and other problems are so pressing, it may be some time before his real intentions regarding the project will become known.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—There was an off-Broadway show down on Sullivan Street in Greenwich Village the other night and because it was a pleasant, warm evening with the sun not yet fading over toward the Hudson River, I thought I would walk through Washington Square and look at the annual outdoor exhibition of paintings, customarily a not exactly rewarding stroll.

And, once again, there came proof that a story can be found anywhere in New York — anywhere. The story this time was a lean, copper-topped young man with a firm look and some paintings hanging on the board fence around an excavation. He had a camp stool and there were three empty places in his line of pictures. He looked familiar, he looked like someone I'd seen in a play about eight months ago. He wasn't, as it turned out, but he was a story.

"YOU AN ACTOR?" I asked, after looking at his work.

"Painter," he said.

"Ever an actor?"

"Nope. I'm a painter only. It's tough enough without being an actor, too. That's double jeopardy."

"Do you show here every June?"

"For money," he said. "Highball money."

"You mean you drink it up?"

"No," he said. "I sell some pictures, fold up the money and highball out of here for Europe."

"How many do you have to sell?"

"It isn't the number, it's the loot," he said. "I don't count in numbers. I set a ceiling of $3,000 worth of sales and can make my year $2,000 but it tastes better at $3,000."

"What's your take right now?"

"I have about $1,875," he said. "A few more and I'm on my way."

"What's your name?"

"Manes Lichtenberg," he said.

THE NAME turned wheels in my memory, a story out of Spain,

Pigs Was Pigs, Then As Now

WASHINGTON—Now we've got a couple of Senators offering a bill to keep alive the memory of the pig war between the United States and Great Britain.

This is an elegant idea, because it was an ideal war; nobody but the porker got killed. There was fuss and also feathers, troop movements, and declarations of defiance, but we regained our senses in time and so did the British, and the man you'd least expect settled the pig war for us. Emperor Wilhelm I of Germany served as peace-maker.

I'D NEVER heard of the pig war myself until Senator Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson, both Democrats of Washington, came up with their resolution to turn a piece of San Juan Island — where the unfortunate porker met his end off the coast of Washington State — into a national monument.

So let us delve with the Senators into a bit of history that proves among other things that nations 100 years ago could be as stupid sometimes as they are today.

IN 1848 WE signed a treaty with Britain, setting up the boundary between United States and Canada exactly as it is today, except for a stretch among the islands off the West Coast. Then the thinking of the diplomats grew fuzzy.

Their treaty said the boundary with the billions of dollars now spent on missiles. And then start wondering why Dr. Goddard's work wasn't recognized and supported, earlier.

If it had been, maybe the United States would have had the V-2 before the Germans and Sputniks before the Russians.

"I don't know who was to blame," Mrs. Goddard philosophizes now. "My husband was the academic type. He was soft-spoken and introspective. He was a lone inventor."

"He couldn't put his finger on where the trouble was. I don't know what he thought about all the run-around."

CONTRAST this penny-pinching

a yarn out of Mexico, an anecdote from Paris.

"You're Red," I said. "You're the ex-GI they call Red Lichtenberg in a lot of places. You were in the Air Force until about eight years ago and you have a picture in a Madrid museum. I remember. You won the Allied Artists prize twice and the National Academy prize several times. I know a Mexican rancher who has one of your pictures."

"No kidding," he said. "Yes, I'm the one they call Red. Even in Madrid they say: 'That Rayd, that Rayd Lichtenberg, he is showing in Paris again.' I can grab a one-man show in Paris but I show on a wooden fence here. I'm not sore about it, I just mention it. It's one reason I grab the money and run for the boat every year."

"YOU SOUND as though you felt Europe discovered American talents before we do."

"Well, they do, don't they?" he said. "Van Gogh had to knock them over abroad before registering with the public here. Did he play any less well here or in Texas than in Russia? I don't think so. I can show in Europe by invitation. I don't think I could club my way into a one-man show here. It's why I sell the stuff off the fence and beat it."

"I'm not going to sing any sad songs about Americans neglecting their own artists until the Old World approves them, but in a way it is true. I'm not beefing and I did my bit with the Air Force and, frankly, had a ball."

"I'm an American and love it. But if I'm going to grow in this painting business, I have to work and study and I can't do it here on $2,000 or $3,000 a year. That's why I go to Paris. I can't even finance a wife on that kind of money. It's a lonely life but satisfying."

Someone came along and began to talk about a picture. I went off to the basement theatre. By now, he's probably in Paris—or on his way.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—"As her favorite nephew, we know you will be deeply distressed to learn of the passing of your late beloved aunt, whom we had the pleasure of serving as attorneys for 50 years."

"Probate of her will disclose that you—"

Who, on receiving a letter that begins in this way, could refrain from reading it all the way through?

Practically no one.

But how often does one get such a really interesting letter as this one? Hardly ever.

When you are very young, any letter is exciting and holds the possibility of great mystery. You turn it over and over to prolong the thrill. And when you open it, you are content even if it is only a form letter telling you how to raise guinea pigs for fun and profit, or how to build bigger muscles for $3.85.

BUT AS YOU GROW older and more cynical, the romance tends to disappear from the postman's mailbox. Mankind is flooded daily by an ocean of mail, most of it wasted because most of it is unread.

The bulk of his mail consists of bills, charity appeals or invitations to buy something he either doesn't want or can't really afford. Most of this he tosses away.

But now and then he gets a letter turned out by someone who really knows how to write. For example, I can't help finish letters that start out as follows:

"The enclosed check is in grateful appreciation of—"

"We have read the manuscript of your stirring novel and are happy to inform you that—"

"A REVIEW OF YOUR 1956 tax return has disclosed you overpaid—"

"Remember how I had to fight you to get you to buy that $1 chance on a new 1958 convertible? Well, the winning ticket has been drawn, and guess who—"

"Usually our country club requires a $500 initiation fee for new members, but in your case—"

"Frankly, I thought your son would flunk out the first semester. However, now I must admit—"

"Remember the little redhead who stood you up on that prom date in 1938? Well, all these years my conscience has—"

"The lodge next year has to be led by a guy who has real character as well as drive. Your name came up during—"

"Your wife returned the dress, and a credit of $175 has been made to your—"

"Cocktails will be served at—"

But you seldom get that kind of letter any more, do you?

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—I had dinner the other evening with a fellow who should have been flushed with triumph, but who kept the flush under remarkable restraint. This chap had just beaten the individually-fitting pants off Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland in the California gubernatorial primaries and been posted a 3 to 1 favorite, even by Republican bookies.

I shrink from confessing where I had dinner with Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, or revealing the identity of some of the other guests, because I am afraid it may strike you as bordering on the phantasmagoric. But reportorial integrity compels me to face facts.

THIS WEIRD gathering was at the home of a Georgetown soothsayer and some of those around the feasted board were Rep. James Roosevelt, of California, and former Gov. Sid McMath, of Arkansas, who blew up and described his State's distinguished senior senator, the labor racket-probing John L. McClellan, as a "complete and utter incompetent."

McMath seemed to be a well-contained, almost diffident type, until Brown—apparently in all innocence—asked him what he thought of McClellan. McMath hissed like an overtaxed boiler and exploded: "McClellan is the most overrated figure in national office!"

Our host, I have some reason to believe, is in the newspaper business too, but he refrained from whipping out a notebook. However, I labor under no such ethical handicap — and besides, with my social graces, I never figure on being invited to a place more than once, anyway.

I took it all down, explaining to Rep. Roosevelt, who has led a life sheltered from all publicity:

"Things are off the record only when they're no good."

The dinner was supposed to be stag, but Brown's pretty wife, Bernice, flatly refused to leave, although a delegation headed by George R. Killian, new head of MGM, arrived to drag her off to another affair. Mrs. Brown remained the only woman at the soiree.

One guest voiced the opinion that Brown's 603,000-vote lead in the primaries meant that — epithet — epithet — Knowland didn't stand a ghost at the regular election in November. Brown looked at his missus, who gave him the universal wily eye, and replied:

"I'm not taking anything like that for granted. Senator Knowland has a formidable campaigner. I'm still running scared."

I asked Mrs. Brown if she had done much in the campaign. She said her major contribution was an appearance on TV. She said the first question thrown at her was:

"What do you think of Senator Knowland?"

MRS. BROWN SAID she was almost floored, but rallied, and replied: "I have only met him a few times. Why don't you ask me if I think Pat Brown would make a great Governor?"

"Did he ask you that question?" I asked.

"He did," Attorney General Brown answered for her. "And she went on to tell him. I don't know if she convinced anybody else, but she convinced me."

Mrs. Brown recounted that on another occasion she was asked about the controversial right to work issue. She replied that she was not the candidate and did not consider herself an authority on labor affairs, but that she was an expert on banana cake. The questioner retorted, rather nastily, that this was the first time banana cake had been dragged into the right-to-work dispute.

I've got to continue this tomorrow. I must tell you about Pat Brown's encounter with Vice President Nixon and the Choctaw Indian.

ACCURATE HISTORY—The school board yesterday afternoon took action towards the improvement of a more accurate United States history for use in public schools. J. W. Thomas, president of the board, said the action was taken mainly to see that Maryland's part in the making of American history is more fully and historically represented.

ANNUAL REPORT—The annual report of the Board of Water and Electric Light Commissioners shows that collections for the year ended June 1 were $37,842, a net gain of $1,369.73 over the previous year. The report shows that there are 280 are lamps in use, and the price per lamp per year was $37.81, which is considered a low price.

Rev. And Mrs. Ronald Fearer Honored By Lutheran Group

The congregation of St. Paul's Lutheran church held a reception Tuesday evening in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. W. Ronald Fearer. Mr. Fearer was ordained a Lutheran minister May 28 and installed as pastor of Christ Lutheran Church of Hagerstown on June 1.

The program was presented by the Lutheran League of the church as Rev. Mr. Fearer had been a member of that organization all the time he was a member of St. Paul's. Rev. John F. Sammel, pastor of St. Paul's, gave the invocation and Calvin Kelter acted as master of ceremonies. Miss Vera Elaine MacKenzie sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Monroe MacKenzie who then directed group singing.

Eric Fable played a trumpet solo "Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White" accompanied by William Claus. William Ritchie played a trombone solo "Dark Eyes." The "Three Gs," a flute trio comprised of Carol Griggs, Carolyn Gamble and Linda Gipe played "Lift Thine Eyes."

Rev. and Mrs. Fearer were introduced and presented with gifts from the congregation. Mrs. Kelter presented Mrs. Fearer with a nest of tables and Dr. Charles L. Kopp, president of the church vestry, presented Mr. Fearer with a private communion set. Mrs. Faith Bible closed the program with three accordion selections, "Helena Polka," "The Swallow" and "Just Because."

Rev. Mr. Sammel spoke briefly to the group and expressed his thanks to all those who had helped make the reception a success.

The honor guests then received their friends and refreshments were served by Circle 5, Mrs. Earl Manges, leader.

The Friendship Circle Bible Class of Park Place Methodist Church will hold a strawberry festival on the church lawn at 5 p. m. today. In case of rain it will be in the church.

If you have a gas range with an automatically controlled top burner, you'll find a temperature 325 degrees is fine for browning meat (that has been dipped in seasoned flour) in butter.

Mrs. Martin To Be Honored At Barton

Average Russian Physician Makes Less Money Than American Coal Miner And Owes Loyalty To State

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — The average Russian doctor is a woman, makes less money than a coal miner and owes her loyalty to the state, not to her patients, a U. S. drug manufacturer said today.

Russian medicine is based on the doctrine that disease is an enemy of the state and its industrial progress, said John T. Connor, President of Merck & Co. Inc., To make the best use of its manpower the Soviet Union built hospitals as fast as it could. It turned out doctors by mass production and copied western drugs, Connor said.

Now it has seven hospital beds for every 1,000 persons, just five years away from achieving the U. S. ratio of 10 beds per 1,000 persons.

The Russians have more doctors and are training more doctors than in the United States, Connor said. But the average American doctor has 22 years of schooling behind him, including two years of internship and residency. The average Russian doctor has 15 years of education.

The Soviet program has been successful in what it set out to accomplish, Connor said. He outlined it this way:

The Soviets have cut death rates 75 per cent since the revolution. The Russian of 1926 could expect to live just 44 years. The Russian of 1956 could expect to live 67 years, compared to 69.5 years in the United States.

Connor, speaking before the annual meeting of the Manufacturers Chemists Assn., suggested the United States challenge Russia to a longevity race. He said: "Longevity is not just a statistic. We can increase it only by saving the lives of many of the 112,000 infants who died last year before they had a chance, of the 75,000 men and women who were struck down by cancer in their 30's, 40's and 50's, of the 158,000 whose heart or blood vessels failed them before they had even tasted the first year of retirement."

He suggested a wide program to keep the U. S. ahead in the race, including expansion of medical research, training additional doctors, a new foreign medical air program and an accent on preventive medicine.

Fathers Biggest Problem Is Television

By OTTO E. STURM

NEW YORK — (UPI) — With Father's Day just around the corner, I'm wondering about a grim combination that fathers of another day never had to face—kids and television.

Why is it youngsters may ignore television for hours on end, but just let the set break down and it's as if somebody cut off their food, drink, air and other necessities of life?

That's what I ran up against on a holiday weekend and it shouldn't happen to the guy who invented those TV commercials that yell at you.

When the set first flickered out, Albert, 13, gave it a couple of kicks. That's worked before, but it didn't this time. Then he optimistically decided to switch it off a while, hoping it would be okay when he turned it on again. That also has happened. But the set wasn't cooperating now.

"Too bad," I murmured soothingly as I saw his hope turn to doubt, doubt to sorrow and sorrow to despair. "Our regular repair shop is closed for the weekend."

But with an energy born of the horror of facing a couple of days without television, he already was riffling through a classified telephone book for one of those "call any time" TV repair outfits.

Nobody's touching that set, but

Ted," I said, anticipating his appeal. Ted's been changing our TV tubes for years and fixed our radios before that. I'd feel like a traitor if I called anyone else. But after this experience, I don't know about next time.

"I suppose every TV repairman but Ted is a gyp," my son said sarcastically. Then, with desperation, "I'll even pay for it myself out of my allowance."

I looked at him and thought of the throes of narcotic addict in withdrawal, the despair of a shaky alcoholic who has dropped and smashed the last bottle just as he was lifting it to his lips.

"Things could be worse," I said—comfortably. I thought, "You're healthy, got a roof over your head and plenty to eat. So the TV's out. Why we had a story from Washington the other day that said more than two billion people never get enough to eat. Think of that."

"That's too bad," he said, not completely unfeeling.

"But what's it got to do with our TV set?"

"Yeah," chimed in Carol, eight, who decided to get into the act. Ordinarily, she might be fighting with her brother over who sees what on TV. But now she joined him against the common enemy.

I knew it was futile to suggest reading a book. Under these circumstances the kids always say they've read all their books.

"We could get sick and go to a hospital. You can rent TV sets there," Carol said helpfully.

With that, I left the room and came back with a hammer. I raised the hammer and announced dramatically, "I'll fix it, but good."

There were anguished cries of "don't Dad, don't." I reluctantly agreed to discuss an armistice, which included a trip to the movies that left only one more awful night without TV.

Well, out fathers didn't have this electronic problem, but they also didn't have educational television. We've had that a long time at our house.

The kids do their homework on the floor by the light of the TV screen.

Calcium is the nutrient most likely to be short in the diets of city dwellers.

Treasury's Viewpoint Not Shared

Debt Stretching Policy Being Watched By Various Groups

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Treasury's elation over its success this week in stretching out the maturity of the federal debt isn't shared today by all in the financial community.

And the policy is being watched closely by corporate treasurers, school boards and city fathers who may be wanting to tap the investment market for funds. Already they've sold a record-breaking volume of new securities this year. And now Uncle Sam is becoming a bigger competitor in this market.

The Treasury's aim, however, wins the praise of many on the sidelines for its long term good effects on the money market — that conglomerate thing that can determine how much interest you'll have to pay if you want to buy on time or get a mortgage, and even can determine whether there'll be money available if your community wants to build a new school or your firm wants to borrow to build a new plant.

The Treasury hids that it isn't upsetting the investment market nor mopping up investment money pools for long.

What the Treasury wants to do — and what it succeeded in doing this week — is to get more of the federal debt into long term bonds so that it won't have to be going into the money market every little while to refund short term issues as they come due.

This week the Treasury sold 1 billion dollars in 27-year bonds for cash and refunded some 774 billion of maturing issues into new 6 years 8 months bonds. This allowed the Treasury to stretch out the average maturity of the federal debt to 63 months. Last week the average was 58 months.

The Treasury isn't out of the financial woods by any means. The Treasury secretary's fiscal problems go on and on. Before the end of the year he is expected to seek eight billion dollars more in cash to meet the deficit that will mount fast in the second half of the year.

In trips to the money market, the Treasury likely will take care not to dry up the reservoir of investment money and thus upset the borrowing plans of states and communities and of corporations. Also it will have to walk a tight rope lest it upset another administration aim — to bring down long term interest rates as a counter to the recession.

Custom's Origin

The custom of carrying the bride over the threshold came from ancient Rome. It was believed that evil spirits stood guard at the threshold of the new home, ready to trip the bride as she entered. To avoid this, the groom would carry her past the evil spirits.

Delaware Leader Says Criticism By New Jersey Governor On Bridge Toll Reduction Not Justified

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Gov. J. Caleb Boggs says criticism by New Jersey Governor Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey against actions of those operating the Delaware Memorial Bridge were unjustified.

He endorsed recent toll reductions on the bridge as "proper and legal" and defended Delaware's position.

By act of Congress the bridge bonds must be paid by 1978. But income from the span, operated solely by the Interstate Highway Division of Delaware, has been such that until recently it was expected the bonds would be paid off within three or four more years.

The act of Congress that authorized the bridge also provided that it should be toll-free when the bridge was paid for. After that time, Delaware contends, the bridge would cost about a million dollars annually for maintenance, a bill pending before the Senate seeks permission for the State to charge a nominal toll, after the bonds have been retired, to pay for this maintenance.

By reducing the tolls by about 30 per cent on June 1, Delaware extended the probable term of bond payment to about 10 years, well within the 1978 limit. It also gave the State more time in which to seek passage of the toll bill. The former bridge toll was 75 cents a car. It now is 50 cents.

Group Claims Demons May Cause Illness

Church Of England Reports On Study Of Divine Healing

LONDON (AP) — A Church of England commission has concluded that human illness caused by demons could be possible.

At the same time, the commission expressed doubt Wednesday that cures of human ailments could result solely from the practice of spiritualism, faith healing or Christian Science.

The commission has been studying divine healing and related matters for five years.

The commission turned the subject of demons over to a subcommittee. It said of the group's findings:

"Some members of the committee were not persuaded that demons may cause or complicate any malady."

"Yet on the other hand they recognize that medical knowledge is not, and cannot ever be, comprehensive, and they would not like to assert a priori (presumptively) that no case will ever be found of such an unusual character as suggests the need for exorcism."

Exorcism—or driving out—of demons still is practiced by clergy of the Church of England, especially in houses which seem to be haunted by mischievous spirits. The committee said an advisory panel of clergymen and doctors should be named to go into the matter more thoroughly.

The commission denounced the practice of Christian Science.

"The error of Christian Science with which the commission is chiefly concerned is its belief that disease and suffering exist only because men will not deny their presence," the report said. "Discord, evil, disease and suffering are not to be met by any denial of their existence. The Cross was no sham."

The Christian Science Committee on Publication replied that the commission "appears to have found it difficult to grant that physical healing can be brought about by spiritual means alone."

"This limitation," the committee said, "is understandable enough at this time, but is naturally regretted by those who have proved that the spiritual rules by which the Master Christian healed are as available now as they were in His day."

LISBON, Portugal—(UPI)—The government-backed president-elect, Americo Tomas, polled 80 per cent of the votes cast in Portugal's extensive overseas provinces in Sunday's election, the government reported today.

An overwhelming majority in the mainland vote already had clinched Tomas' victory over Gen. Humberto Delgado. Tomas currently is navy minister.

Venezuelans Still Investigating Causes Of Mob Attacks On Vice President Nixon

By LARRY ALLEN

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The Venezuelan government still is investigating the causes of the mob attacks upon U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon here a month ago tomorrow. It has given no indication of what it has learned, and the whole affair has been pretty well expunged from local memories.

The Ministry of Interior says it does not know how many of the more than 100 persons arrested for stone, throwing and other violent acts are still in jail or whether anyone has been punished.

There seems to be general agreement everywhere that the incident was Communist inspired.

Caracas newspapers published declarations by Junta President Wolfgang Larrazabal after the touring vice president and his wife were attacked that an intensive investigation would be made. Since then there has been no mention of the inquiry in any newspaper.

Members of the American colony in Venezuela express belief the ardor of the investigation had been considerably dampened. They attribute this to news that the United States had alerted troops for a rescue of Nixon and his party, if needed and if requested by Venezuela.

Venezuelans who expressed shame and humiliation quickly stopped apologizing. Instead, they launched bitter attacks against the United States for daring to think of sending troops and intervening in Venezuelan affairs.

The Communists seem pleased that the responsibility for what they called "a demonstration of national revenue" had been laid at their door.

From the American viewpoint here, Communists, fast rising to places of power and influence in this country, saw in the Nixon good will visit a chance to capitalize on Venezuela's economic and other complaints against the United States.

Venezuelan-American relations cooled considerably after the United States put restrictions on the imports of oil from this country. That coolness merged into icytness in many Venezuelan quarters after learning that the United States had given refuge to ex-dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez in Miami.

Venezuela now is preparing to ask that Perez Jimenez be extradited here for trial.

The United States has indicated it would promptly consider an extradition request.

There also is a feeling the United States should give more consideration to Latin America as a whole in its distribution of foreign aid to help many countries improve their standard of living.

There is a big segment of Venezuelans who feel that while what happened to the Nixons was deplorable, it nevertheless was the means of focusing attention upon

Youth Critically Hurt After High-Speed Chase

NEW YORK — (UPI) — An eight-mile chase at a 90-mile-an-hour clip had a near-fatal ending in downtown Brooklyn last night.

Patrolmen James Kelleher and William Curtin, cruising in their car, spotted a speeder tentatively identified as Harry Olson, 20, of Brooklyn. They followed him, with sirens screaming, and the pursuit came to an end when their quarry wrapped his sedan around a steel light pole. It took 20 minutes to remove the critically injured youth from the wreckage of his auto.

About 95 per cent of all farms in the United States now use electricity.

Cumberland Has Made Valuable Progress Under The Present City Administration

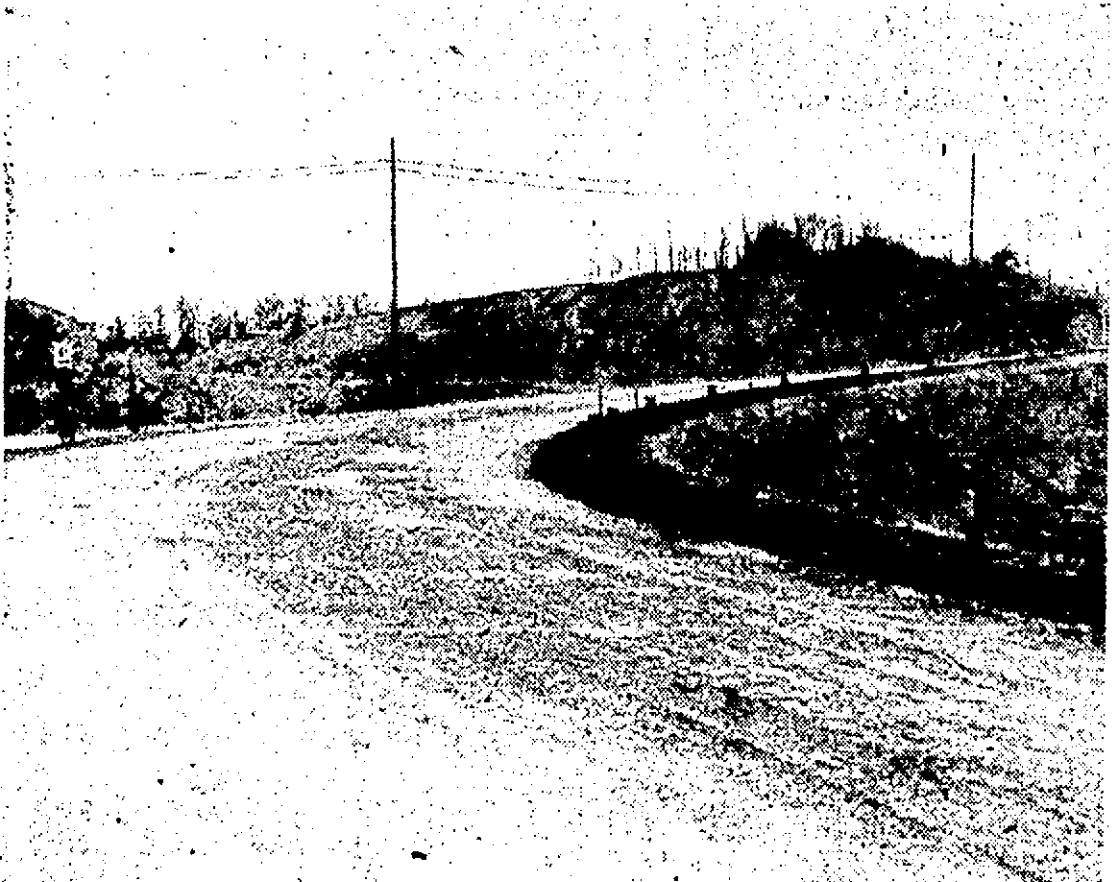

View, looking towards the Narrows, of channel improvement of Wills Creek

Two million dollar sewage disposal plant, situated at end of Offutt Street in South Cumberland, insures the health of present and future citizens, plus unpolluted water for industry.

These new filters at Lake Gordon have helped increase Cumberland's filtered water supply from 12 million to 18 million gallons per day.

Industrial boulevard through South Cumberland, now under construction, will open new vista for commercial sites. This is part of Crosstown Express program.

On next Tuesday, June 17, there will be a municipal General Election in Cumberland and the following list of some of the accomplishments of the City administration during the past four years is being published for the information of the voters who will participate in the election.

The photographs on this page show a few of the more important public works which a majority of the members of the present administration either commenced or took appropriate action to continue.

The City contributed $150,000.00 to the new Nurses Home at Memorial Hospital and supplied the engineering for the two new parking lots. This was done by General Obligation Bonds. The Nurses Home was necessary for the continued accreditation of the hospital.

The $2,000,000 Sewage Disposal Plant located in South Cumberland, and the $500,000 water line extension to the $35,000,000 new plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at North Branch were essential to the acquisition of that plant, and without them this plant would not have come here. The sewage facilities have also given us a large section of unpolluted river frontage for further industrial development, and the new water line will produce additional revenue for the Water Department.

There is also a picture showing a small part of the million dollar improvements to the filtration plant at Lake Gordon, which after forty years of continued use, required a major overhauling, as well as an expansion, to meet the increased demands of domestic and industrial water consumers.

The Flood Control Program started in 1949, and is still continuing. 90% of this work is being paid for by the Federal Government, but it has been necessary for the City to contribute the remaining 10%, and in connection with the program the City also paid for the greatly improved new bridges at Valley Street, Market Street, Baltimore Street and the new bridge connecting Cumberland with Ridgeley.

The industrial highway through South Cumberland has already been started. This is the first phase of the Crosstown Expressway, and the City has already contributed $140,000 to that project, but the State of Maryland is contributing approximately twenty times the amount to be paid by the City. Furthermore, this whole project will furnish substantial improvement for some years, and will thus help alleviate the existing unemployment situation.

The Banneker housing project on Frederick Street was completed during the past four years, and a further housing project on Oldtown Road had been approved; and construction on it will begin this fall. The Federal Government pays for these projects, and the one on Oldtown Road will rehabilitate a two block area.

Frederick Street was paved to the City line, with the Federal Government contributing approximately one-half of the cost. This added a mile of what is now one of the most beautiful residential districts in the City, and since its inception over a hundred building permits have been issued along this street, and these new houses represent a substantial increase in the City's assessable basis.

During the past four years the innovation of having women as guards at street intersections to protect school children was started, and a policewoman has been added to the Police Department to assist in curbing juvenile delinquency. Another aid in preventing juvenile delinquency is found in the City's Recreation Program which is second to none in the State.

This administration has also fully cooperated with the merchants of Cumberland in an attempt to provide adequate off street parking, and with the impending removal of the Western Maryland Railway freight sheds on South Mechanic Street, a long step will have been taken in solving this problem.

The City has also fully cooperated with the State of Maryland in arranging for the location of a half million dollar Armory building in Cumberland, and the only cost to the City will be the acquisition of the land on which the Armory will be located. This will give us a magnificent new building and will also give the young men of Cumberland a chance to take most of their selective service training at home should they desire to do so.

In addition to the foregoing, the present administration has reconditioned the Fort Hill and Ridgedale Reservoirs, has cleaned the surface and pointed up the masonry of the Police Station and the City Hall, a necessary navigational aid in the nature of a homing device was installed at the City Airport and the Fire Department has acquired a new $26,000 pumper, which is a substantial and needed addition to the City's fire fighting equipment.

These are some of the things which have been done by the City administration during the past four years. While these things cost money, many of them were necessary, most of them represent substantial improvements which will benefit the citizens of this community for years to come, and all of them were beneficial to the citizens of Cumberland.

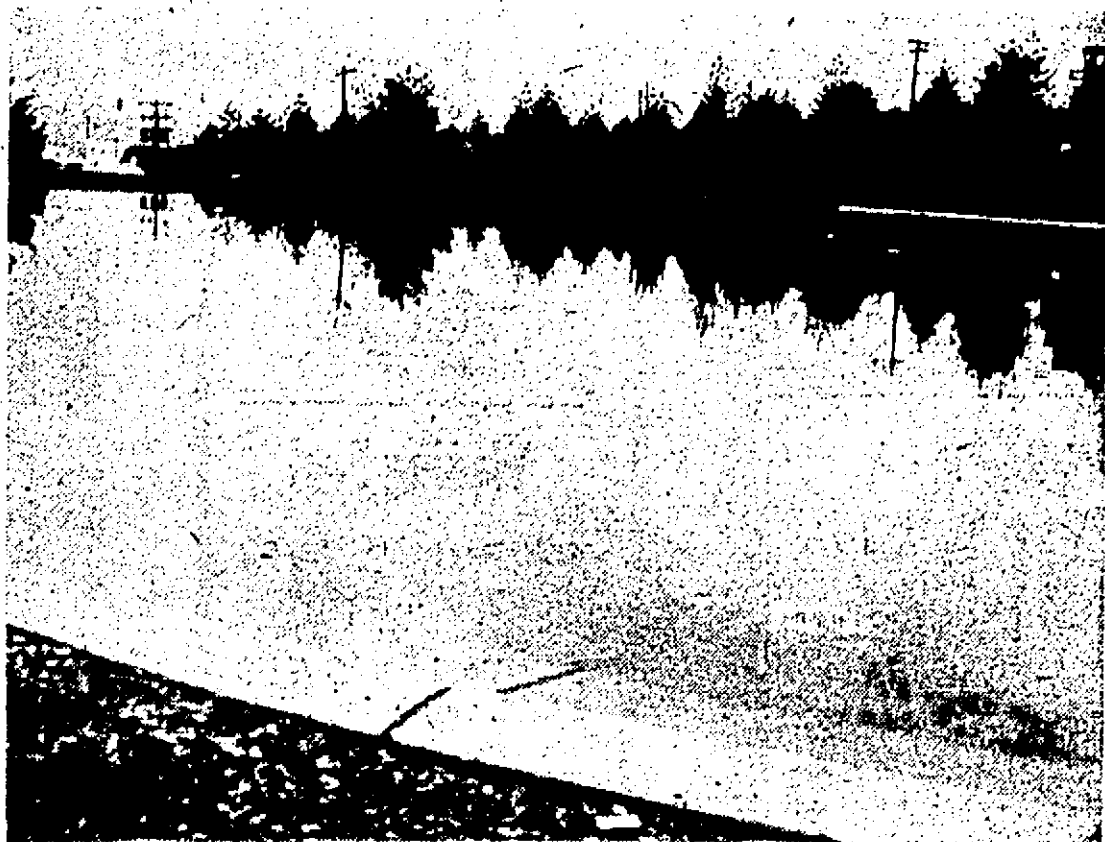

The foregoing things were done during the past four years and they are collected and set forth here so that all of the citizens of the City may have accurate and up-to-date information of many of the things which have been done by the present City administration for the benefit of Cumberland.

County Sends 92 Women To College Park

Local Delegation To Be Largest In Past 25 Years

There will be 92 Allegany County women who will attend the Rural Women's Short Courses at the University of Maryland from June 16 through June 21, according to Miss Mary Wise, county home demonstration agent.

Miss Wise said Allegany County has had the largest representation at the RWSC during the past 25 years and last year was second by a slight margin.

Besides the intellectual and spiritual program offered home-makers attending the course, there are quite a few events of a special nature, Miss Wise added.

The schedule for the 1,000 homemakers expected to attend the five-day "College Week for Women" is filled with 20 different classes, speakers of national importance, and devotional periods, and it is not without recreation and its social events.

This formula of education, inspiration and recreation is one of the secrets of Short Course's success over its 32-year history. That's how it's summed up by the director of this year's Short Course, Miss Margaret Oliver, home demonstration agent leader for the university's Extension Service.

Monday, June 16, registration day—gives the "students" some free time to get acquainted with the University of Maryland campus.

Tuesday—classes begin and the evening entertainment will be the Navy Band "Sea Chanters," singing stars of radio and television.

Wednesday—classes continue and in the afternoon women can choose one of three tours—Cinema, the Mayflower, or the Mosque, Smithsonian and Natural Science museums.

Thursday—along with the classes and assemblies there'll be folk games and films for evening entertainment.

Friday—Visitor's Day will be highlighted by "graduation" followed by a tea on the Mall sponsored by the Short Course Alumni Committee. Short Course will close officially Friday, June 21.

Chief Urges Extra Care By Motorists

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn this morning urged motorists to be extra careful during the summer months when school is not in session.

The chief noted that during the school holiday many children will be playing in the streets, riding bicycles and the like and their little minds are only on what they are doing, never thinking of the danger of the reckless driver.

Flynn said so many motorists when they strike a child tell the police that they did not see them in time to avoid striking them. They should have their cars under control at all times, especially where there are many cars parked along the curb.

Children are prone to dart out on the street after a ball or playing with another child and it is indeed a sad thing to see a child lying on the street with broken bones or perhaps a fractured skull, the chief said.

Drive as though you are looking out for your own child. The police can't be everywhere, so we take this means of reminding the good people of our city to take care, lest one of our little ones become maimed for life or perhaps meet even a worse fate.

Barker Given Sentence, Fine In Local Court

Donald Lee Barker, 29, Severn, Md., yesterday afternoon was given three six-month jail sentences in the Maryland House of Correction and fined $150 on three motor vehicle counts.

The hearing before Trial Magistrate Morris Baron climaxed a long investigation on the part of City and State police authorities.

Barker was apprehended by City Officer James Bolyard on March 1 on four motor vehicle charges, and he gave his brothers name to authorities and forfeited $229 bond.

Barker was returned here yesterday for trial after local police discovered he gave false information when arrested here several months ago.

Magistrate Baron sentenced Barker to the jail terms for giving false information to police, driving a vehicle on a revoked license and operating a vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Barker also was fined $150 on the last charge.

Magistrate Baron dismissed a reckless driving charge and suspended a $10 fine for operating a vehicle without a license. The jail terms are to run concurrently.

Barker was arrested here on March 1 by Officer Bolyard and charged with four motor vehicle violations. When apprehended, Barker gave his name as Charles P. Barker.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, who prosecuted the case, introduced to the court yesterday Barker's motor vehicle violation record which revealed 10 convictions dating back to 1953.

Barker was represented at the hearing by Paul Engles, a Baltimore attorney.

The school band presented several selections under the direction of Nutter. Two songs, "Alpine Song" and "Blue Bonnets," were presented; Richard Dickinson and Thomas Hamilton, were installed. Miss Grace Swanson and Nutter were accompanists for the musical numbers.

Cumberland's Fire Fighters Modernizing

Portable Radio And Emergency Saw Will Increase Efficiency

Purchase of additional equipment has resulted in another step toward complete modernization of Cumberland's Fire Department.

Just put into service are a portable radio and a gasoline-powered emergency chain saw.

The radio, operated by dry-cell batteries, is sort of a walkie-talkie unit weighing about 15 pounds and packaged compactly into a canvas carrier. The radio contains a small aerial and a conventional-type microphone. A strap makes it possible for a fireman to carry it over his shoulder.

Increase Efficiency
According to Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, the portable two-way radio will increase the efficiency of fire-fighting operations, especially at a big blaze.

An officer, he said, can enter a burning building with the radio, survey the situation and then relay his needs either to his truck or directly to headquarters at Central Station, thus saving valuable time. The device is carried on Central's pumper which is equipped with two speakers, one in the cab and the other on the outside. Officers are being trained in the use of the portable radio.

The power saw, according to Chief Parker, will speed operations in cases where holes must be made to get to a fire or fallen timbers cut away to clear the path for fire-fighters. In the past this has always been done by the use of axes, a slow process. Members of the department are being taught to use the saw which is carried on Central's 85-foot aerial truck.

Test Run Daily
Meanwhile, test runs are being made daily over downtown streets by the city's newest pumper, the $25,000 engine that has just been put into service.

The "dry runs" are necessary, Chief Parker says, to familiarize drivers and crews with the handling of the new pumper, the city's largest. The truck handles differently than Cumberland's others because it is the only one with a cab extending over the front wheels.

The new truck has a pumping capacity of more than double the old Central truck—1,250 gallons per minute to 500. This leaves the city with only one first-line 500-gallon pumper, the one stationed at East Side. West Side's first-line truck will pump 1,000 gallons a minute and South End's 750.

West Virginia Delays Giving Miners' Exams

CHARLESTON (AP) — A 60-day moratorium on mine foremen's examinations beginning July 1 was announced today by Crawford L. Wilson, chief of the State Mines Department.

The new state mining law enacted by the 1956 Legislature goes into effect July 1. Wilson explained that the suspension of foremen's examinations is to give the department time to revise the examination and set up the program under the new law.

The examinations have been given about once a week at various places in the state, chiefly Morgantown and Charleston.

Persons passing the two-day examination receive mine foremen's certificates. Law requires a certified foreman in every mine employing five or more men.

Wilson said that when foremen's examinations are resumed, it is hoped to put them on a twice a month schedule.

Wheelchair Given Victims Of Dystrophy

A collapsible-type wheelchair has been provided for two youngsters by the Allegheny County Muscular Dystrophy Chapter. The chair, was presented to Clyde Cook Jr., 12, and his brother, Ronald Cook, 11, who have had the disease for about five years.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cook Sr. Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, president of the chapter, said the chair was presented to the Cook youngsters by Miss Henrietta Lippold, executive secretary of the Allegheny County League for Crippled Children, which works hand-in-hand with the dystrophy chapter.

Chief Parker said the parents of the boys can now take them out on a picnic or fishing trips and they will be able to enjoy the outdoors.

About a year ago the dystrophy chapter provided a hydraulic hoist lift for the two boys when their mother no longer was able to lift them.

Some five wheelchairs and two lifts have been provided to dystrophy patients by the two-county chapter, according to Chief Parker, who said victims of the disease reside on Vocke Road, Maryland Avenue and in Burlington, W. Va.

The two Cook boys, unable to attend classes at school, have special instructors teach them at home.

Emergency Rabies Serum, Vaccine Kept On Hand Here

An emergency supply of rabies serum and vaccine is on hand at the Allegheny County Health Department. Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, said the supply kept on hand at all times includes enough hyper-immune serum to treat one adult and sufficient rabies vaccine to provide half of the 14-day full treatment.

He said the hyper-immune serum gives either a passive immunity from rabies or an extension of the incubation period. This provides protection during the administration of the slower acting immunizing vaccine, which takes eight to 10 days to take effect.

The seven doses of vaccine on hand, he added, is sufficient since the full treatment takes 14 days and there is plenty of time to secure additional supplies.

To meet emergencies, key personnel of the department keep in their possession telephone numbers of sources of the vaccine.

Dr. van Strien said the department aims to keep only an emergency supply, since the serum and vaccine are very expensive and do not last very long.

Unused supplies, he added, have to be written off as a total loss after the effective date passes.

He said the decision on whether or not to give the anti-rabies treatment is made by the victim's physician.

Only two cases in recent months, he added, have had to have the full treatment, and that was because the dogs which bit the victims could not be located.

Dr. van Strien said that where dogs can be quarantined, it is possible to stop the treatment as soon as it is evident that the dogs are not rabid.

In cases where one is bitten on the face or neck, physicians usually begin treatment at once. There is a little more time if the bite is on the lower extremities.

That the rabies-fighting serums can be obtained in a hurry was demonstrated here last month when State Police delivered, by plane and car, supplies needed to treat three Garrett County children bitten by a squirrel and two farmers exposed to a rabid lamb.

SRC Reaches Stalemate On Overtime Pay Issue

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission has reached a stalemate in a dispute with the Maryland Classified Employees Assn. and the personnel commission over which of its employees are eligible for overtime pay.

Carl L. Wannan, SRC comptroller, reports that some 600 or 700 employees are involved in the disagreement between Russell S. Davis, personnel commissioner, and the roads commission.

At issue is the problem of determining which are supervisory employees and therefore not subject to the 40-hour week established by a 1956 act.

The question has been put to the attorney general, who must decide what constitutes supervision of a major unit of function. This is the criterion for exclusion from overtime payments.

Under terms of the act, Davis apparently has the final word. Wannan estimates the final decision could make a difference of thousands of dollars in salaries.

A spokesman for the Classified Employees Assn. said the roads commission has continued its former system of designating supervisors. The association originally touched off the dispute.

Charles D. Harris, counsel for the association, said the roads commission argued that all employees making $4,300 a year or more are supervisors.

"That was not the intent of the 1956 act at all," Harris said.

The issue came to a head after the roads commission submitted its list of employees subject to the 40-hour week to Davis. Wannan said Davis returned the list, considerably expanded.

Wannan said the expanded version included some employees making up to $9,000 a year. He said this would lead to the prospect of some employees at higher levels receiving more pay than their employers.

Under this year's act, the basic week for State Roads Commission personnel was reduced from 45 to 40 hours at unchanged

'Look And Hold' Orange Test

You never have to pinch, squeeze or poke an orange to tell if it's ready for eating. Just give it the "look and hold" test.

If the orange is firm and smooth to the touch, heavy for its size, and free from mold or soft spots, it's a good bet you have the "best" buy.

Remember, size does not influence either the quality or the flavor of the fruit. You may buy oranges by either weight or count in many markets.

Boil, Save Nutrients

Cook potatoes in a small amount of water to save nutrients. You can boil two pounds of medium-sized white potatoes (halved) in as little as three-quarters cup of water. The vegetable will be cooked in 20 to 30 minutes.

Fruits And Vegetables Can Reduce Food Bill

By The Associated Press

Steadily-increasing supplies of fruits and vegetables will ease the strain on food shoppers' pockets this weekend, off setting to some extent continued high prices for meat.

Orchards and vegetable fields in almost all sections of the country are spewing forth produce to augment shipments from the big growing areas in the South and West. These fruits and vegetables from nearby fields in most cases send prices tumbling. Increased supplies eventually will do the same for meat, but just now this section of the housewife's budget remains a headache.

Specials Scattered

Supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores offer the usual specials this week. They are pretty well scattered among beef, pork, lamb, veal, fowl and fish.

"Pork loin, ham, fryers and fryer parts are popular offerings. A wide variety of seafood—flounder, mackerel, shrimp, lobster, scallops, whitefish and frozen fish sticks—also are advertised as specials.

Lettuce is the best buy among vegetables, produce men say. Excellent buys also are available among endive, escarole, asparagus, spinach, cabbage, beets, kohlrabi, Maine potatoes, radishes, green onions and yellow or green squash. In the good buy category are sweet corn, snap beans, Texas onions, tomatoes, new potatoes from Florida and California, cucumbers and peppers.

Melons Coming Up Fast

At fruit counters the big volume imports—bananas and pineapples—are still the best bets, but melons and other summer favorites are coming up fast. Cantaloupes dropped sharply in price this week due to abundant supplies, and watermelons also are cheaper. Strawberries from nearby fields, California lemons and Valencia oranges are good buys. Blueberries, cherries, grapes, plums, nectarines and apricots are getting more plentiful and cheaper every week.

Onion No Lily In The Raw

A controversial subject may not always be appropriate for the dinner table, but there's one most hostesses know is just about indispensable. And that's the subject of onions, the most controversial of all vegetables.

Of course, most of the arguments come up about the question "Shall you" or "shan't you" eat them—in the raw, that is. It's certainly true a raw onion doesn't smell like a lily, even though they are members of the same family, but then who would exchange an onion for a lily when it comes to cooking?

Pineapple Cream Salad Recipe

Here's a low calorie spread that's wonderful on hot cinnamon toast or poppy-seed rolls for breakfast. To add an air of distinction serve it in the hollowed-out pineapple half shell.

Allow 1 four-ounce package cream cheese to stand at room temperature until soft. Cream with 1 tablespoon honey and mix well with ½ cup fresh pineapple, finely chopped, and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon.

Baby Foods Make Pork Chop Relish

Chilled canned apple sauce and strained prunes—buy baby or junior food—say, half of each, stirred together—add up to a most refreshing accompaniment for pork chops or roast pork loin.

Mix in a few chopped mint leaves... and it's a whiz of a relish with lamb.

Sour Cream

Cool, crisp cucumbers—Prepare them with sour cream as an appetizing accompaniment for hot weather meals. Slice cucumbers thinly. Leave the skins on for color and nutritive value. Season them with salt, freshly ground pepper and chopped dill. Top with sour cream and chill well before serving.

Anchovy Served On Cauliflower

If you like the flavor of anchovy and have never had it on cauliflower you will want to try this for an unusual dish.

Wash one medium head of fresh cauliflower, remove the outside leaves, break into flowerets and place in a sauce pan with 1 inch boiling water and salt to taste. Cook, uncovered, for five minutes. Cover and continue cooking for 10 minutes or until cauliflower is crisp-tender. Drain.

Meanwhile cook 3 anchovies in 3 tablespoons of olive oil for 5 minutes or so, stirring constantly. Add the cauliflower and fry, stirring with a spoon without breaking the flowerets. Add 1 teaspoon capers and 2 tablespoons of stock or hot water and bring to a boil. Serve immediately. Yield: six servings.

Bring The Meal To A Sweet Close

Banana-raspberry shortcake brings the meal to a sweet close.

One-inch slices of pound cake are covered with banana slices, and topped with crushed red raspberries to be half hidden under a frost of sweetened whipped cream.

Frankfurter Ideas

You can liven up hot dogs by these variations:

—Franks in tomato-flavored biscuit wraps (use a quick ready mix), or batter-dipped and deep fat fried.

—Frank dipped in sour cream, creole, barbecue or creamy mustard sauce.

—Franks stuffed with cheese wedges, applesauce, whipped potatoes, scrambled eggs, Spanish rice or bread dressing.

Children Will Like Lemon Charlotte

Planning a children's party? Here's a dessert they'll like! Lemon Charlotte combines colorful canned fruit cocktail with a creamy lemon-flavored pudding. The dessert is chilled in a mold lined with lady fingers. Looks most festive!

Lemon Charlotte

1½ tablespoons plain gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 (No. 2½) can fruit cocktail

½ cup sugar
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
¾ cup whipping cream (may use ¾ cup chilled evaporated milk instead of whipping cream)
Softened gelatin in cold water
Drain fruit cocktail and measure syrup. Add water to make 1½ cups liquid. Heat and dissolve fully into mold. Chill until firm. Softened gelatin and sugar in it. Blend in lemon juice. Cool until slightly thickened. Fold in whipped cream and 2 cups well-drained fruit cocktail. Line 1½ quart mold with split lady fingers. Turn gelatin mixture carefully into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with remaining fruit cocktail. Serves 6 to 8.

Peps Up Pork

Popular pork roast gains new flavor when glazed a half hour before; it is done with a mixture of ¾ cup applesauce, ¼ cup pineapple preserves and a tablespoon of lemon juice.

Flank Steak Is Best If Braised

Flank steak is a lean piece of meat with no bone and, while it is as flavorful as other beef steaks, it is usually not as tender. The steak is best prepared by braising. Brown the meat in a little hot fat, add a cup of onion, some, grated carrot, and season with salt and pepper. Cook covered, over low heat until tender.

To avoid curdling when making cream of tomato soup, slowly stir the hot tomato puree into the hot white sauce. Reheat if necessary but do not boil.

Spiced Tea Punch

Try serving spiced tea punch at your next party. For 35 servings, tie one-half cup of broken stick cinnamon and one tablespoon of whole cloves in a piece of clean cheesecloth. Boil in six quarts of water for five minutes. Then add five teaspoons of orange pekoe tea, and steep for a little hot fat, add a cup of onion, some, grated carrot, and season with salt and pepper. Cook covered, over low heat until tender.

Add some basil leaves from your garden, and some celery tops, to tomato juice and refrigerate over night. Remove basil and celery and serve very cold.

Cookbooks Translate From French

QUIET—GOURMET AT WORK. Alexander (Sandy) Watt, author of the recently published "Paris Bistro Cookery," whips up a French-style dish. Several cookbooks offer French recipes for the American cook.

with historical and geographical facts, it is an open sesame to a knowledge of French food.

Anyone can gain worthwhile information about French food and drink from the recently published "Paris Bistro Cookery" by Alexander Watt (Knopf). In addition to descriptions of Paris restaurants that offer exceptional value, there are recipes for some of the bistros' specialties.

Several years ago when I was in Paris, Alexander (Sandy) Watt and his pretty Danish wife invited me to supper. I can still remember the Watt's delightful informal hospitality, with Sandy serving a perfect fish en papillote and then going into the kitchen to finish the sauce for a blanquette de veau. "Paris Bistro Cookery" has the same true flavor of Paris as does the Watt apartment overlooking the Seine.

With warm months ahead, you might like to try a classic French salad from "Paris Bistro Cookery." It is a specialty of Chez Quinson, in the Place Felix-Faure, where the proprietor is also chef. Sandy Watt says "you can vary the ingredients according to your own taste and add or substitute sliced potatoes, cucumber, celery, raw cauliflower."

Salade Nicoise
Ingredients: garlic, 3 tablespoons olive oil, 1 tablespoon wine vinegar or lemon juice, salt, pepper, 1 large heart of lettuce or chicory (cut in broad strips), 1 sweet green pepper (cut in rings), 12 black olives, 1 cup cooked French beans, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 2 tablespoons finely chopped fresh tarragon or chervil or parsley, 1 can tuna, 2 hard-boiled eggs, 4 tomatoes (quartered), 8 fillets of anchovies.

Method: Rub a salad bowl (preferably a wooden one) with the garlic. Prepare the dressing with the oil and vinegar, salt and pepper. Mix well and pour into the bowl. Add the other ingredients, placing neatly on top the tuna, eggs, tomatoes, and anchovies. Keep in a cool place and bring to the table when required. First serve the tuna, eggs, tomatoes and anchovies, and then the rest of the salad having turned it well in the dressing. Serves 4.

For Better Tasting Chicken In Every Pot

DAVIS, Calif. — (UPI) — A fresher, better-tasting chicken for every pot is the goal of University of California scientists.

A Davis campus research group is concerned over the short storage life of poultry, or most of the poultry marketed in this country. Processing and distribution often mean a week's delay before chicken reaches the consumer.

Scientists suggest using lower temperatures and antibiotics in packing plants, postponing cutting-up chickens until they reach the retail market as whole birds keep much longer than cut-up ones, and better sanitation methods.

Do you have a passion for fine food? Would you like to acquire a repertoire of French dishes? Do you like to travel and feast via reading, and then buttress this vicarious enjoyment with some delightful cooking in your own kitchen?

If such a perference and appreciation is yours, we suggest you look into some of the help and pleasure to be found in cookbooks. Charlotte Turgeon, an American who has lived abroad, has done a notable job in her books of translating and reworking French recipes. The second volume of "The Gourmet Cookbook" with its handsome format and color illustrations, includes many French specialties. A young woman we know is at present cooking her way through this new Gourmet volume. She's having a fine time—and so are her husband and friends.

You might also be interested in the new "The Food of France" by Waverly Root (Knopf)—even though it does not contain recipes, because it is a remarkable account of a gastronome's adventures. With observations on cooking and eating intertwined.

Chop Walnuts For Wafers

Roll walnut wafers are crisp and very good. Be sure to chop the golden walnuts very fine because large pieces cause the cookies to crack when you roll them, warm from the oven, around the handle of a wooden spoon.

Their interesting shapes make these cookies an asset to the tea tray.

Roll Walnut Wafers
1 cup California walnuts
1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup melted shortening
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Chop walnuts very fine; or grind. Beat eggs and gradually beat in sugar. Blend in honey and melted shortening. Stir in flour, salt, rind and walnuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto well-greased baking sheet, allowing a generous space for spreading. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Immediately remove cookies from pan carefully with broad spatula, and roll around handle of wooden spoon, top side out. Slip off onto wire rack to cool. Makes 2 to 2 1/2 dozen cookies.

When you are soaking dry lima beans overnight, you'll need about four times as much water as beans.

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING about Baking

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Our American Heritage: Sweet Corn Touches Off Nostalgia

By CECILY BRUNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Who wants to rush the season by wearing a straw hat in January or a fur stole in July? But when fresh sweet corn on the cob comes to markets early, it's a different story. America's attachment to the good eating that lies beneath those green wrappers and silky brown tassels is one no other country knows.

Years ago, were corn feeds one of the high spots of your young life? Those were the days when a country house had a summer kitchen. This was an unheated room, lonesome and closed-off in winter, with its dark green blinds pulled down. But when the warm days came there was a great excitement and commotion while it was opened, scrubbed and aired. Then the blinds stayed raised part way—just enough to let in golden flickers of sunlight and keep out waves of heat. It was here untold delights were prepared. Here sat the extra stove, needed for the lengthy old-fashioned sunmer-vacation visits of hordes of relatives and friends.

CORNY BUT NICE: A beautiful crop of early sweet corn offers good eating and a welcome chance to remember when. This lad is having corn on the cob, cooked in the husk on the patio grill.

In that cool and inviting room, fruit preserves and spicy relishes were simmered and stirred, tasted and tested, to be ladled into glasses and jars. Here a whole, fresh salmon was poached in the huge oval-shaped steamer with its outside surface of gleaming copper. And here dozens and dozens of ears of fresh sweet corn were boiled for a wondrous feed. This event was often scheduled for a Saturday or Sunday when carloads of guests came just for the day—the more mouths to feed the merrier! As the water began to bubble in the copper boiler, all hands shucked the corn. While it turned tender everyone was occupied in setting himself up. This might be in the long dining room or at a picnic table under the trees. Each person made sure he had an ample plate and a case knife. Huge salt shakers, stacks of paper napkins, and pounds of butter were ready and waiting.

As a batch of corn was cooked and drained, it was heaped onto a large white ironstone platter. In one second teeth sank into sweet kernels, cobs piled up on another platter. That is all but the children's. Theirs stayed close to their plates—the better to count and boast how many ears eaten. We can still hear our mother say, "Don't gobble, children, chew each mouthful before you swallow."

These days the chances are a corn feed will take place on the new-fangled patio. Wrappers will be turned back, silks removed, then husks turned back again over the kernels. Next the ears will be lined up on the grill over the hot coals and cooked until the husks are dry and browned—maybe 20 minutes if the fire's right. Who volunteers to turn the corn so every row of kernels gets even cooking? At last it's ready. Husks are broken off, small fry and older folk spread the ears with butter and sprinkle them with salt. Now to the age-old pleasure of eating!

Canned Asparagus Soup Is Versatile

Long regarded a vegetable delicacy, asparagus, can sometimes be a bit too dear for the budget menu.

Not so, however, if you have a supply of canned condensed cream of asparagus soup on hand.

This triple treat soup (use as a soup-sauce and recipe ingredient) is probably one of the most economical ways of serving the tasty asparagus.

Spaghetti Sicilian

Here is a meatless spaghetti sauce that requires no special technique. It's simple, tasty and different.

Cut a clove of garlic in half and brown in 4 tablespoons of olive oil. If you wish you may remove the garlic from the oil after it has browned. Add 1 No. 2½ can plum tomatoes, strained; 1 tablespoon capers which have been soaked in water for a few minutes, ¼ teaspoon dried basil, 2 tablespoons chopped green olives, salt and black pepper to taste. Cover pan and simmer for about 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add 1 small sliced eggplant and cook until eggplant is tender (about 20-25 minutes). Add 1 teaspoon grated parmesan cheese about 5 minutes before cooking is completed. Serve on spaghetti.

Good Breakfasts Improve Discipline

Emotional difficulties, irritability and depression come easily on an empty stomach. Behavior problems thrive among poorly fed children.

Discipline has improved in schools where good breakfast programs have resulted in boys and girls eating a good breakfast before coming to school.

Go-alongs for cooked fresh asparagus stalks and cheese sauce: crisped bacon, deviled or sliced hard-cooked eggs, Canadian bacon.

Outdoor Cooking Tips

Rub soap on the outside of cooking vessels you use outdoors. The soaping helps to make soot easier to wash off later on.

Use cloth tapes on metal handles of griddles and frypans to keep the outdoor chef from burning hands.

The cloth tapes are handy to keep tablecloths and paper napkins securely fastened to picnic tables, too.

A utility knife, from five to six inches long, is a handy kitchen tool. Use it for cutting grapefruit in half, for example, when a paring knife would be too small.

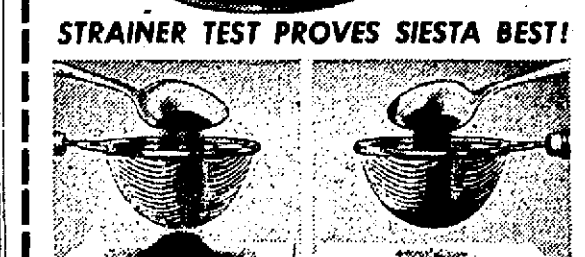

Cauliflower Amandine

Cauliflower Amandine is a dish simple to prepare and a pleasure to eat — if you just do this: Cook one box quick-frozen cauliflower as directed on package. At the same time, saute 2 tablespoons slivered, blanched almonds till light brown, in 2 tablespoons butter. Spoon hot, drained cauliflower into serving dish, pour almonds and butter over top and serve at once—to three people.

Potomac Hand Bell Ringers To Present FSTC Program

Bedford Area Wheat Vote Scheduled

BEDFORD — Bedford County farmers were reminded yesterday that wheat growers eligible to cast ballots in the June 20 referendum on 1958 wheat quotas are those who would be subject to the marketing quota program if it is approved.

"The meaning of the term 'eligible voter' is only slightly different from what it was in last year's vote on quotas for the 1958 wheat crop," Harry C. Robinson, chairman of the Bedford County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declares. "This change results from new legislation which provided a feed wheat program and in effect modified the wheat marketing quota provisions."

The term "eligible voter" in this year's referendum on 1958 wheat quotas, according to the chairman, now includes—with one exception—all those farmers in a commercial wheat state who will be engaged in the production of the 1958 wheat crop and who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat for grain on their farm. The exception is that those farmers who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program may not vote on quotas for the 1958 wheat crop.

Under the feed wheat program, farmers whose applications for feed wheat privilege are approved and whose allotments are less than 30 acres may grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown without becoming liable for marketing quota penalties.

Robinson emphasizes that each individual's right to vote depends entirely upon his or her own qualifications. This applies also to minors who are producers.

Farmers who have any question about their eligibility to vote in the June 20 wheat referendum should get in touch with the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office for further information. If a voter's eligibility to vote should be questioned, he may vote a "challenged ballot," which will be tabulated later as valid when and if its validity can be established.

Club To Mark Anniversary At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — The Young Men's Republican Club will observe its 20th anniversary with an open house Friday, June 20, beginning at 8 p. m., according to A. Charles Stewart, chairman of arrangements for festivities.

Stewart reported that Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, U. S. Senators J. Glenn Beall and John Marshall Butler, Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde and other Maryland Republican Congressmen and all Republican candidates for state and county offices have been invited to the affair.

Harry Eisel was the first president and one of the 13 charter members of the club, which was organized June 15, 1938. Other charter members were Charles Odgers, Walter Rank, George Hager, Donald Jeffries, Philip Jenkins, John Grimm, William Rank, Francis Richardson, Harold Jenkins, Robert Elias, Thomas Davis and Charles Elrick.

The Young Men's Republican Club was organized in the Rees Building and remained there for six months. Then the club moved to the Engle Building and remained there until April 1, 1940, when fire destroyed that structure. The Engle Building was remembered as the one in which Harry W. Nice began his successful campaign for governor of Maryland in 1934.

After the fire the club was dormant for six months, and then became reactivated in the Bolling Building on Broadway. On April 10, 1947, the club purchased what had been the Moose House, its present location on East Main Street, for about $20,000.

In its 20-year history, the club has had 13 different presidents. Eisel, the first president, also served in 1939, 1941, 1942 and 1944. Other presidents have included Darrell Zeller, 1940; Walter Rank, 1943; William Zeller, 1945 and 1946; David Bender, 1947; Clyde Henry, 1948; Elmer Lewis, 1949; David J. Wilson, 1950, 1951 and 1952; Ervin Hansel, 1953; George Geary, 1954; Edgar Stoops, 1955 and 1956; Gilbert Rams, 1957, and Charles J. Phillips, 1958.

Wives of the club members have been active in an auxiliary since 1942. Thirteen women have headed the auxiliary. They include Sue Walker, 1942-43; Owen Eisel, 1943-44; Charlotte Zeller, 1944-45; Margaret Richardson, 1945-46; Harriet Slusa, 1946-47; Pauline Powell, 1947-48 and 1950-51; Lydia Biller, 1948-49; Phyllis Lewis, 1949-50; Marjorie Pryor, 1951-52 and 1954-55; Thelma Hyde, 1952-53 and 1953-54; Gladys Broadwater, 1955-56; Ann Scott, 1956-57, and Gladys Livingston, 1957-58.

Harvey Gortner Will Relinquish Motor Business

GRANTSVILLE—Harvey Gortner will relinquish his automobile business July 1 after having been active in the community over the past 35 years.

At that time the Motor Service Company will be taken over by Dale Kinsinger and Robert Diehl. Kinsinger is 28 years of age and married to the former Audrey Schaffer, daughter of Mrs. Walter Beitzel. His father is pastor of the Meadow Mountain Church and a mechanical engineer with a Grantsville concern. He and his family are living in a newly acquired trailer here.

Both he and his wife are active in the life of the community. His wife is in nurse's training in Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital at Johnstown.

Diehl, 23, is a son of Dr. Clayton Diehl, Frostburg. He married Shelby Sisler, daughter of Clarence Sisler. They have two children. Diehl is a grandson of Floyd Diehl who was a partner of Gortner for a number of years.

Gortner will be associated with the Gortner Motor Sales, Inc., in Morgantown, after July 1. He was recently complimented by the Ford Motor Company at a branch manager's meeting for doing more for young people in getting them started in business than any other person in that company.

Gortner has sponsored in past years five boys in a merchandising school at Dearborn, Mich. He has set up new businesses in various towns in the area which have been taken over by young business men. The Gortner Motor Sales in Keyser is now owned by Willard Gortner. The Confluence Ford Sales is now owned by Ward Newman and Don Kaufman. The Gortner Ford Sales in Meyersdale was sold to Henry Beamer. The Morgantown establishment was purchased in 1951 and operated under the Beamer Ford Sales. This has been changed to Gortner Motor Sales, Inc., with Harvey Gortner as president; Mrs. Donald Stout, vice president; Mrs. Gene Kirk, secretary-treasurer and Gene Kirk, executive vice president and manager.

Gortner has remained active in the civic affairs of the community and elsewhere. He has been a director of Camp Sequoyia, Lutheran youth camp at Jennerstown, Pa., for the past eight years and a member of the board of directors of Meyersdale Community Hospital the past six years.

He and his wife plan to divide their time between Morgantown and Grantsville for the present and retain their home here.

Moorefield Girl Elected Court Judge

JACKSON'S MILL, W. Va. (AP)—State Supreme Court Judge Chauncey Browning administered the oath of office today to Federalist Barbara Cook as governor of the annual Rhododendron Girls State here.

Miss Cook is the daughter of Mayor Woodrow Cook of Mullens, who was elected to his third term in that Wyoming County town only last Tuesday.

The Girls State governor was one of only two Federalists to win state offices. The other was Ellen Moulder of South Charleston, elected as secretary of state. The other state officials, all Nationalists, chosen in last night's general balloting at this week-long citizenship training encampment: Peggy Richmond, Beckley, attorney general; Joanna Nichols, Holden, treasurer; Bettina DePaul, Beckley, auditor; Lola Ann Sovak, Salem, school superintendent; Virginia Carol Rice of Elkins, agriculture commissioner.

Judy Powell of Fairmont, Beverly Bourne of Charleston, Mary Conway of Fairmont, Kay Huff of Buckhannon and Phoebe Fisher of Moorefield, Supreme Court judges.

The Senate, in which the Federalists have a 7-5 edge, was to elect its president today, with Federalist Beverly Greathouse of New Cumberland and Nationalist Merle Karickhoff of Spencer the nominees.

The House, with 19 Nationalists and 16 Federalists, has Sally Williams of Man as its speaker. Among scheduled honor guests at today's inauguration ceremonies and banquet was Dean Hunneshagen of South Charleston, elected governor at the annual Boys State held here last week.

West Virginia Legislature Plans Special Meet June 23

CHARLESTON (AP)—West Virginia's Legislature convenes here in special session at 2 p. m. (EST) on Monday, June 23, to clear the way for state participation in a temporary federal program of jobless benefits.

Gov. Underwood said last night that the session will be called for that time, but that he will not issue the official proclamation until Monday, June 16.

The governor's two-sentence statement gave no indication as to what items would be included in the call, but most speculation today was that the session would be limited to the unemployment compensation matter.

A special session is limited by the state constitution to consideration of legislation set forth in the governor's proclamation. Underwood conceded that he had received some requests that he enable the special session to consider repeal of a controversial soft drinks tax extension enacted at the regular 1958 session.

The act extended the tax generally to syrups and powders used to prepare soft drinks at home. Underwood gave no indication as to whether he was disposed to include the subject in his legislative call.

At the same time, however, he noted that—as far as he could recall—none of the requests for its inclusion came from members of the Legislature.

The special session will have two other items of business before it, at any rate. One involves election of a House speaker, and the other will center about Senate action on appointments made by Underwood in recent months.

The House speakership was left vacant with the death of W. E. Flannery of Man after adjournment of the last regular session. There already were at least five Democratic candidates for the post today.

They included Majority Leader T. E. Myles (Fayette) and Del. Julius W. Singleton Jr. (Monongalia), W. T. Brotherton Jr. (Kanawha), Paul H. Kidd (Gilmer) and Harry R. Pauley (McDowell).

The House majority presumably will follow the usual practice of holding a caucus the night before the special session to choose a speaker, and the formal election next day ordinarily is just a formality.

Underwood has made only a few appointments subject to Senate confirmation since the regular 1958 legislative session, and the list includes no major ones of department head importance.

The governor has, however, a number of appointments coming up to major boards and commissions for terms which begin July 1. With the special session scheduled before he must make those appointments, it would appear that there will be no necessity for Underwood to submit those names for Senate confirmation at this time.

The Legislature must act to enable West Virginia to take part in a federal financing of additional unemployment benefits for those who have exhausted their eligibility under state laws.

In West Virginia, where the maximum period for drawing benefits under state law is 24 weeks, the act would provide an additional 12 weeks of jobless aid.

Ex-Minister Ruled Insane In Abduction

MARLINTON, W. Va. (AP)—Raymond Carpenter, 36, former Nazarene church minister, was officially committed to Lakin State Hospital by the Pocahontas County Circuit Court.

Carpenter and his wife were charged with the abduction of a 15-year-old Green Bank High School girl, who disappeared last Jan. 24.

State Police Sgt. W. E. Webb quoted the girl that she left Pocahontas County with Carpenter and spent that night and the next with him in a town, the name of which she could not remember.

She related further, the officer said, that they were together from Feb. 1 to Feb. 5 in a Huntington hotel, and that Carpenter took her to the home of one of his relatives in Milton. State Police discovered her there, residing under an assumed name.

Circuit Judge Nickell Kramer ordered Carpenter committed to Lakin yesterday after doctors at the institution reported he was insane at the time of the alleged abduction, and still is insane.

Carpenter had been sent to Lakin State Hospital after his indictment here in March. The Nazarene Church lifted his credentials in February.

Mrs. Carpenter faces sentencing after pleading guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor. She applied for probation and Judge Kramer continued her case to the next term of the circuit court in October.

W. Va. Education Board Will Open Meeting Monday

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Board of Education will open a two-day meeting here Monday, with business to include:

Opening of bids on construction of a new student union building at Fairmont State College and a new women's dormitory at West Liberty State College.

Approval of final plans and specifications for a new health and physical education building at Marshall College, to be financed by issuance of revenue bonds.

A second report on progress of an administrative re-organization study at Marshall by President Stewart H. Smith.

Recommendations by the board's committee on teacher education, headed by Wyoming County School Supt. Jesse V. Morgan, and suggestions from the Council of College and University Presidents, headed by John W. Pence, president of Fairmont State.

The board extended what originally was set as a one-day session to permit a hearing Tuesday morning for Mark H. Cardwell, head athletic coach at West Virginia State College.

President W. J. L. Wallace of West Virginia State has notified Cardwell that he will not be recommended to the board for reemployment for the next school year.

Youth Shot In Dairy Bar

HUNTINGTON (AP) — An 18-year-old youth was shot in a west Huntington dairy bar last night after he allegedly threatened the proprietor's life.

In satisfactory condition at Memorial Hospital today was Bernard Aliff, on probation for breaking and entering. He was shot twice in the chest with a .22 caliber pistol.

The shooting occurred at Westmor Dairy Bar to which police had been summoned earlier in the evening to quell a disturbance.

Officers quoted the manager, Joe Simpkins, 33, that Aliff entered the establishment and threatened to kill him. Simpkins said that when the youth reached for something in his pocket, he grabbed the gun and fired at Aliff.

Simpkins was released without charge pending further investigation.

Keyser Area Plants Plan Expansion

KEYSER — Keyser's two garment plants—the So Rite Lingerie Company and the Keyser Garment Company—are planning expansion that would result in 50 per cent increase in production for each plant.

Paul Miller, owner and manager of the So Rite firm, said his company must have an additional 20 employees by September to fill anticipated orders. He placed an order last Saturday with the Singer Sewing Machine Company for additional machines.

Dave Klein, president of the Keyser Garment Company, recently acquired 6,000 additional square feet of space which will make room for 35 additional machines. This means work for about 50 people and will bring the total employment to more than 125 persons.

Both managers stress that outside factors in the garment industry could affect their own expansion program, but each expressed optimism in their future.

The Keyser-Mineral County Chamber of Commerce and the Mineral County School Board are jointly sponsoring a training school for sewing machine operators, which will help meet the employee needs of the two garment plants. A course of instruction lasts 40 hours, covering five week days and allows the school to graduate up to 12 operators each week. Both garment factories are cooperating and furnishing material remnants to the school and aiding in other ways to turn out qualified operators. A spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce has urged all interested women between the ages of 18 and 50 to apply for the school. Application blanks are available in the chamber offices or at Church Street School where the sewing operating instructions are given.

An interesting aspect of the local garment manufacturing plants is that neither plant is technically a manufacturer, but is a contractor making garments for a "manufacturer" in New York. This "manufacturer" is not in fact a "manufacturer" at all, but a design and sales agent for the Keyser products.

The So Rite Lingerie Company produces women's and children's pajamas and dusters.

The Keyser Garment Company occupies the entire hangar facility of Ludwick's Airport on New Creek Drive.

VA Psychiatrist To Resign Post At Clarksburg

CLARKSBURG (AP) — The impending loss of the chief psychiatrist at the Clarksburg Veterans Administration Hospital June 23 will leave West Virginia's four VA hospitals without a permanent psychiatric ward.

Dr. Charles A. Zeller, chief of psychiatry and neurology at the VA institution here for seven years said he will leave June 23 to become clinical director of the Southwestern Hospital at Marion, Va., for the Virginia post July 1.

Dr. Kenneth W. Brown, manager of the VA hospital here, announced that the psychiatric ward will be closed when Zeller departs because of a lack of trained psychiatrists. He remarked that the other three hospitals at Huntington, Martinsburg and Beckley are without full-time psychiatric wards.

Dr. Brown said the central VA office in Washington advised him that an acute shortage of psychiatrists makes a replacement for Zeller appear to be an impossibility in the near future.

Psychiatric cases with military service connections will be sent to the Leach Farm VA Hospital in Pittsburgh after June 28, Brown said, with other mental patients to be sent to Weston State Hospital. He added that intermediate mental cases here gradually will be integrated into the psychiatric ward section.

Trio Held For Armed Robbery

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — An arraignment here today centered about whether three self-styled Cuban rebels had a cause. The youthful offenders were indicted in April for the alleged robbery of a Marion County man.

The aspirant Cuban rebels were identified as Patrick Edward Patterson, 18, of Coco, Fla.; Forest Lipscomb, 20, of Thomas in Tucker County, and Harry E. Voelker, 23, of McKeesport, Pa.

Preston County Prosecutor James T. Dailey Jr. said Patterson and Lipscomb were indicted for kidnaping and on two counts each of armed robbery. Voelker was indicted as being an accessory to the armed robbery.

The trio was arrested March 31 in Winchester, Va., after David Brown of Worthington charged that he was confronted and robbed of $40 and his automobile on a Preston County highway.

Lipscomb was quoted in Winchester that "we're going to join Castro in Cuba."

Virginia Trooper Percy S. Click said that Lipscomb and Patterson were hitchhiking, given a ride by Brown, and then took the driver's money and car before picking up Voelker later.

MOOREFIELD — The Hardy County Court has appointed a five-member Hardy County Board of Health. Named were: J. A. Love, MD, for a five-year term; Love is a Democrat.

Mrs. Verdie Teets, Republican, four-year term; B. F. Dietz, Democrat, three-year term; H. H. Dudley, Democrat, two-year term and Jonathan Paugh, Republican, one year term.

"One member will be appointed each year in the future to a five-year term."

The court also approved all salaries during the coming year for the clerk of the court and his assistants, the assessor and his assistants, the sheriff and his assistants, the secretary to the county agent and other expenses in connection with that office and approved the salary and expenses for the county health officer.

Expansion Noted

Oscar Clark, manager of the Hardy Telephone Company, the REA financed telephone cooperative, requests all parties who anticipate installing telephone service in the immediate future to inform the office at Mathias. The company has engineers drawing up maps for the proposed expansion and wish to spot all prospective subscribers. The information compiled will determine where contracts for construction will be let first.

Contracts for construction in the Rig-Kessel section of the county and on Branch Mountain should be let in the immediate future and construction completed before fall. Clark said that new subscribers requests for service will be spotted on a master map to determine where most phones are requested, and that construction would start there first.

Clark also pointed out that the $40 equity fee is no longer required and that only a $10 membership fee and installation charge is required.

Bill Norman was named manager of the Tigers and even people who consider themselves well posted on baseball asked, "Who's he?"

But baseball managers are hired to be expendable, so it's just a case of another totally indistinguishable character getting a chance, says veteran NEA sports editor Harry Grayson.

When a club gets going too badly, they fire the manager, never the general manager. The departed Jack Tighe was a perfect example of Leo Durocher's nice guy finishing last.

Like Tighe before him, Willis Patrick Norman has been a trouble shooter in the Detroit chain after previous experience as such with the old St. Louis Browns and Cleveland. Tighe, who couldn't hit, never advanced as a catcher beyond Double A.

Norman, an outfielder who injured his arm early in the going, had only a few quick lunches with the White Sox in 1931-32, but played in the higher minors from '29 through '46, when he broke in as a playing manager with Toronto.

Norman piloted the Indians' Wilkes-Barre store in the Eastern League from '47 through '51. There he had a hand in the development of the pitchers, Mike Garcia, Ray Narleski and Don Mossi, and outfielder Al Smith, now of the White Sox. There he won pennants in '50-51.

Norman had the Charleston American Association branch in second place when the call came, more recently sent pitcher Herb Mofford and third baseman Ossie Virgil to the parent outfit. Mofford was a Cardinal reject and Virgil couldn't make it with the Giants, which gives you a fine idea of just how well stocked is the Tiger organization.

Way back, it seems now, the manager of a major league club had to be a name that meant something—Connie Mack, John J. McGraw, Frank Chance, Fielder Jones, Napoleon Lajoie, Hughie Jennings, Bill Carrigan, Tris Speaker, Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby.

Now the bulk of them are products of the system—to be brought up, looked at and shipped back like the hired hands.

This line of thinking has taken much of the color from the game, states Grayson. "Too many managers haven't sufficient background to discuss big league baseball intelligently and some who possess it are afraid to open their mouths."

Sports Keg Residue

Pete Charuhas seems to be getting a lot of breaks—and all bad. . . . The former Allegheny High football star sustained a fractured arm three months ago while practicing lacrosse at Washington College and the other night tripped and fell while ascending the stairs at his home on Sylvan Avenue, breaking the arm in the same place. . . . Physicians at Memorial Hospital say the local athlete will have to carry the arm in a cast for six weeks or more. . . . Pete had had the old cast off only about a month at the time of the accident. . . . He had been scheduled to go to work this past Monday as a lifeguard at the Constitution Park swimming pool. . . . The homer that Enos Slaughter hit in the tenth inning that won a 5-4 decision for the Yankees over the Red Sox May 31 was his first round-tripper at Fenway Park since 1946. . . . As a member of the St. Louis Cardinals that year, "Country" connected for the circuit in the World Series. . . . Ed Schwarz, Allegheny High's new football coach, is no stranger to Norm Gealt, grid mentor at LaSalle. . . . Ed and Norm were teammates for two years when both were playing football at the University of Maryland. . . . Another Cumberlander, ex-Fort Hill star Fred Davis, was also a teammate. . . . Bill Carscaden received a surprise gift from the local Lions Club a few days ago in recognition of his work as chairman of the annual sports car races. . . . It was a large framed color drawing of Carscaden and autographed by every member of the Lions Club. . . . An excellent likeness of "Lion Bill," the drawing was the work of Joe Delaney, Times-News artist. . . . Whitey Norman, who drives in NASCAR events, had his racing car demolished—but not on the track. . . . A mule stepped into the road in front of him as he was returning home from a Martinsville, Va., competition. . . . His tow car also was wrecked, but Norman was unhurt. . . . W. Barry Wood III, a member of the Harford varsity tennis team, is the son of the Crinson grid immortal Barry Wood, a ten-letter man. . . . Michigan State coach Duffy Daugherty waxes philosophical about the two-point conversion option in college football. . . . Says Duffy: "Confucius say, he who score plenty touchdown need not worry about extra-point rule."

Pressure On Hogan, Snead In National Open

160-Player Field Opens Tournament In Oklahoma

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

TULSA, Okla. — (UPI) — The nation's top golfers started out after the U. S. Open championship today in what former king Lloyd Mangrum described as "the greatest pressure tournament of them all. Sentimental favorites Ber Hogan and Sam Snead, faced the toughest task of their storied careers.

"There's no doubt they are under more pressure than any of the other 160 golfers in the field," the 1946 Open winner declared. "Sam is likely to feel it more than anybody else."

"I don't care what Hogan says, he's got to be thinking and shaking at the thought that he can be the only man who ever could win it five times. No one else ever is going to do it because we have so many fine golfers today. . . . But none of them is good enough to spread-eagle the field so many times. There are 30 real good players today and 100 more not far away."

Worst On Snead
"But the pressure has got to be worst on Snead because he is a great player and this is the only one he never has won. He has to have the shakes, too, when he thinks about that. I'll bet those last few hours before he teed off left him in a real tizzy."

Mangrum said the money that the Open paid wasn't much of a factor because the most a golfer can get out of the title today is about $30,000, with only $5,000 of that coming in prize money. The rest comes in endorsements and what now has become a major financial consideration to an Open winner—television.

"The winner can get more TV dollars now than he can in prize money, endorsements and all the rest," the mustachioed Mangrum pointed out. "It isn't money they are shooting out there for today, it's to get in the history books."

Open's Best Course
The Open is being played over the Southern Hills golf course, which Mangrum described as "the best course the Open ever has been played on." The 43-year-old pro said that the 58th renewal of the golfing classic called for a player "who can use every club in the bag."

"The fellow who wins this should be the best champion they've ever had," he said. "Only a real talented player can win on such a fine course—a real true test of the game."

The golfers who sweated around the 6,907-yard course in final tune-ups yesterday said the cutting of the rough to a uniform four inches did not help too much. "It still takes a very strong player to get out of it," said Harvie Ward, the former Amateur champion who recently was reinstated as an amateur after a year's suspension for accepting expense money.

The golfers generally praised the decision of U. S. Golf Association officials to keep the greens watered during tournament play, if necessary.

Must Save Greens
"If necessary, we'll hold up play to water the greens," explained John Winters, president of Southern Hills and a member of the USGA executive board. "We will have to do that to save the greens, because they would burn out and be ruined under this searing heat."

"When it does become necessary to water the greens during play, it will only take about five minutes and then we'll have a man stationed there to warn the golfers teeing off that the greens have been watered so they know what to expect."

Winters also said that an out-of-bounds was being established on the par five 592-yard fifth hole so the golfers could not drive to the practice grounds because they were assured of getting a better lie there.

Snead's Score Best
If Snead has "the shakes," he didn't show it Wednesday when he shot a one under par 69—the best practice round score turned in. He was out in even par 35 and came home in 34, one under, when he shot two birdies against one bogey.

The first golfers in the field teed off for the first round at 8 a. m. CST, going out in threesomes at eight-minute intervals. In the first group were James Riggins, Greenville, S. C.; Don Clarkson, Normandy, Mo., and amateur James Vickers, Wichita, Kan.

Snead was scheduled to tee off at 9:04 a. m. playing with 1954 Open champion Ed Furgol and Doug Ford, the former Masters and PGA king.

Hogan goes off at 1:12 p. m., playing with amateur Charley Coe of Oklahoma City and Gary Player of South Africa, one of the five foreign golfers in the field.

There will be single rounds today and Friday with the field waxes philosophical about the two-point conversion option in college football. . . . Says Duffy: "Confucius say, he who score plenty touchdown need not worry about extra-point rule."

THE OTHER END—Stan Musial has had so many cameras pointed in his direction since joining the 3,000-Hit Club that the seven-time National League batting champion decided to make a movie of somebody else. And he's on the target.

Frank Thomas And New Tiger Pilot In Limelight

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

It's a toss-up who's the happiest guy in baseball today, Detroit's new manager Bill Norman or Pittsburgh slugger Frank Thomas.

Each has every reason in the world to stick his chest out. Norman put in his first day as a major league manager with the Tigers yesterday and it was a dilly. The Bengals made it a banner debut for him by sweeping a day-night doubleheader from the Red Sox, 7-0 and 9-3, to climb out of the American League cellar.

The Tigers treated their new 47-year-old skipper to a little of everything. Frank Lary showed him some fine five-hit pitching in posting his sixth victory in the opener and Billy Martin belted successive homers in the second and third innings of the nightcap to help Jim Bunnif gain his third triumph.

Bunning, who struck out 12, faltered in the ninth inning but Norman promptly summoned one of his "graduates," Herb Mofford, from the bullpen to put out the fire. Mofford pitched for Norman at Charleston in the American Association and preceded his boss to the Tigers by only a few days.

Frank Malone of the Red Sox tried to ruin Norman's debut with six hits in eight trips during the twin-bill but it wasn't quite enough.

Thomas also enjoyed the kind of day he'll remember a long time and not simply because it happened to be his 29th birthday. The husky Pirate third baseman clouted two home runs and drove in seven in a 14-6 win over the Giants at San Francisco that knocked them out of the National League lead.

Thomas, who originally intended to become a priest, now has 19 homers and 57 runs batted in. Both are tops in the circuit. He has hit 11 of his home runs in California, six in San Francisco and five in Los Angeles, so there isn't much doubt how he feels about the franchise shifts.

Thomas Hits Jackpot
Bill Mazeroski highlighted a six-run first inning for the Pirates with a three-run homer and Thomas hit one with the bases full in the second. Vern Law registered his sixth victory although he yielded homers to Felipe Alou, Jim King and Jim Davenport.

The New York Yankees, possibly spurred on by Casey Stengel's worried warning "We ain't home yet," and then again possibly not, stretched their lead to nine games with 10-2 and 2-1 victories over the Kansas City Athletics in a doubleheader.

Tony Kubek and Elston Howard each drove in three runs with three hits in the opener as Don Larsen notched his fifth victory with late-inning help from fireballer Ryne Duren. Reliever Virgil Trucks, pitching in a steady rain, forced across the winning run in the nightcap when he walked four men in a row in the ninth. Bob Turley tossed a six-hitter to become the majors' first 10-game winner.

The light-hitting Baltimore Orioles erupted for five runs in the fourth inning to lick the Cleveland Indians, 7-4. Brooks Robinson drove in three of Baltimore's runs with a pair of singles as 19-year-old Milt Pappas bested Dick Tomack. Pappas gave up only one run in six innings before being relieved by Ken Lehman, who had to be bailed out by Skinny Brown when the Tribe scored three runs in the ninth.

Russ Kemmerer pitched a six-hitter and retired the last 14 batters in a row as Washington beat Chicago, 5-2. The Senators rapped Bill Fischer and three other

Hermans Nip Exports, 5-4, In 10 Innings

Coming up with two runs in the bottom of the tenth inning, the Hermans of the City Softball League edged the Old Exports, 5-4, yesterday at Post Field.

The Hermans scored the winning tallies on five consecutive singles by Gene Basilio, Bobby Goss, Jerry Yankelevitz, Jim Goss and Hayden Phillips. Jim Goss' single knocked in the tying run and Phillips' rap, coming with the bases loaded, enabled him to win his own ball game.

The teams were tied at 3-3 at the end of the regulation affair, with the Exports grabbing a short-lived lead, with a tally in the top of the tenth.

Junior Brelsford allowed just six hits before facing Herman batters in the fateful tenth. He was tagged with the loss.

Phillips, Yankelevitz and Basilio each collected two hits for the winners. Howe, with a double and single, and Meeks, with three singles, paced the Old Exports at the plate.

Chaney's Transportation out-slugged Sports Shoppe, 13-11, in the evening's other City loop contest. The game was played at East Side Field.

The victors cracked an 11-1 deadlock in the first extra inning when Joe Scarpelli singled home Sonny Jack and Jack Bopp, who had walked. Wayne Lewis started on the mound for Chaney's, but gave way to Chaney in the seventh inning when the Shoppers rallied to knot the score. Chaney was credited with the win.

Jack Bopp and Scarpelli each obtained a pair of hits for the winners. Teter slashed a triple and Sonny Method rapped three singles for Sports Shoppe.

Skein At Stake In Twilight Loop

Midland's Indians place their eight-game, unbeaten victory string on the line this evening as all eight teams in the Twilight Baseball League are slated to see action.

Midland, pacing the league with an 8-0 mark, will clash with Lonaconing (2-6) at 5:30 p. m. in a game at "Coney. The Lonaconing nine is placed sixth in league standings.

Barton, should Midland lose, will receive a chance to knot the later for the lead when battling with Zihlman on the Zihlman diamond. Barton's record is 7-1, the only loss coming at the hands of Midland. Zihlman shows a register of 5-3 and is tied for third with Westernport.

Wright's Crossing, having already forfeited two games, will receive their last chance to retain a league franchise when meeting Cumberland on the former's field. The Crossing nine has a season mark of 2-6 and is tied with "Coney for sixth. Cumberland is 3-5 and occupies the fifth spot.

Rounding out the evening's bill, winless Finzel (0-8) will visit Westernport (5-3). Game time is set for 6 p. m., while the other three contests will begin at 5:30 p. m.

Annapolis Negro, Once Snead's Caddy, In Open

TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — Eleven years ago Sam Snead played an exhibition over the Naval Academy course at Annapolis, Md. and slipped his caddy, a cherub-faced Negro boy of 15, a $2 tip.

Today Snead, now a golf capitalist, and the caddy, an Annapolis school teacher, may brush elbows while crossing adjoining fairways in the National Open golf tournament at Southern Hills.

"I don't think Mr. Sam would remember me," said Richard Thomas, a muscled 210-pounder with the build of a stevedore. "But I'll never forget it. It was one of the big thrills of my life."

Thomas is the lone Negro in the big championship and one of the very few of his race to compete. Charley Shippen, a Negro, played back in 1896. Ted Rhodes, a former partner of heavyweight champion Joe Louis, played at Riviera in 1948 and at Rochester in 1956, and Howard Wheeler at Merion, Pa. in 1950.

"My ambition is to finish in the top 20," the drawing Thomas said today. "I'd like to make the best showing ever of my race. I hit the ball pretty far, my short irons make me right proud and I'm not a bad putter."

"I've been practicing in '73 and '74's. That's not bad over this course."

Thomas, now 26, an elementary school teacher and athletic director in the Jones community near Annapolis, shot 74-74-148 in the Baltimore qualifying and lost a playoff for a spot in the Open. Then as first alternate, he got into the tournament when amateur Billy Cole of Baltimore withdrew.

Thomas learned his golf as a caddy over the Annapolis course. He has played in the National Negro Tournament but never won the title because "I have a habit of playing one bad round."

Thomas said he was assigned Snead's clubs when the West Virginian came to the academy for

Property Bought For Gas Station

The Esso Standard Oil Company, Baltimore, has purchased property at the northeast corner of Virginia and Laing avenues for about $30,000, according to a deed filed in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Joseph H. Reinhardt Jr. and Melva L. Reinhardt sold the property, where the Allegany Furniture Company has been operating to the oil company. Included are 8,400.42 square feet or 192.88 acres. The company obtained a building permit from the city engineer's office April 29 to construct a new service station on the site for $15,000.

The present location of a service station at the northwesterly corner of Virginia and Laing avenues is in the path of the proposed Industrial Boulevard.

Reinert Beeuwkes of Newtonville, Mass., built a home-sized cyclotron from his original design for $150. He received a $7,500 scholarship at Harvard to enter as a physics and mathematics major.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me why a man weeps and carries on when his wife passes away when all the time she is living he never gave her a kind word? She was a good wife and a wonderful mother to his children for thirty-five years, and everyone knows he treated her like dirt. And now that she is gone he is inconsolable. How come?

HER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Because— you never miss the water till the well runs dry.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are having a little family trouble and I would like some advice from you. We have four children and I am not saying they are angels, but they are worse than the average kids these days. Well, my husband likes children, but not ours. He says they are just like my sister of the family. I love our children and always take their part but this has caused my husband and me to separate many times ready. He says if I get rid of the kids (let my mother raise them) we could make a go of our marriage, but not unless. Any suggestions? HAVING PROBLEMS

DEAR HAVING: Tell you a great big overgrown juvenile that being a "father" is more than a biological accident. If you can't face up to his responsibilities, HE should clear out, and send the support money through the mails.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I have run out of ideas for my daughter's letter ending. She is writing to a fellow who is stationed in Japan and she writes him almost every day. Do you know where I can buy a book with sweet endings in it for letters to men in service? For example: "Oceans of love with kisses on each wave." We've used that already. Thank you.

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I don't know of any book but I think your daughter should, and her letter with something original. If I sincere and affectionate he would mind seeing the same one repeated in every letter.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is years old and he is worrying because he is too peaceful. The other kids gang up on him (even the girls), tease him, call him "sissy" and even hit him, and cries and runs home. Must raise a roughneck and street fighter in order to have him capable to the other children. He's a good student and mimics his own business, but he is very unhappy because he has no friends. Please tell us what to do.

WORRIED PARENT

DEAR WORRIED: You're your son no favor by letting him run home and cry on your shoulder. The world is tough and has to live in it. Give him special training in athletics (boxing and judo) and he will have more self-confidence.

do not MAKE friends—he recognizes them. Don't knock yourself out.

$60 Refund Due City Tax Clerk

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — City Tax Collector T. C. Armstrong wanted to know a little more about those three $60 bills mailed anonymously to his office.

A note with the bills explained that "some years ago" the sender had received not only a receipt for his taxes but also a $60 check he had mailed in.

Armstrong said if the checks were mailed back to the taxpayer, then some clerk evidently had ended up short and had to make up the $60. He said if the sender would contact him he would be able to determine if the sender remained anonymous — but he just wanted to see about giving

Rough Initiation For Stewardess

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP)—There is a rough initiation always waiting for new stewardesses of one airline using Boone County Airport.

When she comes up to the cockpit during the flight, the pilot and co-pilot lead her in thinking they are bitter enemies.

The next times she returns the stewardess finds notes telling her both men have decided to part company. Both have vanished — apparently through the open side vent windows.

Before the stewardess loses consciousness, the men appear from nearby closets and take over from the automatic pilot.

reading. Today's hand is from that book and illustrates the so-called obligatory finesse.

You are in a rather shaky three no-trump contract and West is unkind enough to open the queen of your weakest suit—spades.

You duck the first lead on general principles and win the second. You note at this point that you need four diamond tricks for your contract. How do you go about making them?

You lead a low diamond toward dummy's queen and the queen holds the trick. East plays the nine and West the five. Now you play a diamond back to your own hand and East plays the ten.

At this point you must make the obligatory finesse of a low diamond. You know that West holds the diamond ace since East would have taken the queen with that card if he held it. If West also holds the diamond jack he will make both cards automatically. If East holds the diamond jack West will have to play his ace on your small diamond and the rest of your diamonds will be good.

Rains, Gales Strike Portions Of State

By The Associated Press

Torrential rains and gale-force winds drummed across portions of Maryland yesterday, flattening trees, disrupting power service and flooding some streets and roads.

The Eastern Shore and extreme Western Maryland appeared to have escaped the sudden thunderstorms that came and went quickly.

Only one injury of consequence was reported. Richard Hill, 29, of Kansas City, Mo., suffered a scalp cut when a brick wall 25 feet long and 20 feet high collapsed in Anne Arundel County near Baltimore. The wall was part of the Harundale Community Church under construction near the Ritchie Highway.

Washington County was one of the hardest hit sections. The Hagerstown airport reported winds with gusts up to 100 miles an hour and two airplanes were destroyed there when the winds snapped their moorings.

A third plane was damaged at the airport and a 60-foot section of roof was blown from the nearby Fairchild Aircraft plant.

At Ringgold in the northeastern part of the county, a State Roads Commission field office was blown over and rolled down an embankment only a few minutes before a crew would have been inside. No one was hurt.

Rinehart Bars Damaged
Roofs were damaged or ripped from half a dozen barns in the area, including one owned by D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the State Racing Commission.

On a statewide basis, the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. said 4,500 telephones were out of service but were expected to be back in service this morning.

In Frederick County, lightning knocked out power lines in Emmitsburg, Point of Rocks, Browningsville, Thurmont, Monrovia and Lime Kiln. One-way traffic resulted when a tree fell across U. S. 15 near Point of Rocks.

Considerable flooding was reported in the Baltimore area, and large sections of Baltimore County were without electricity. York Road—U. S. 111—was blocked.
